
BATH, ME. CONGREGATION.

The Ahavath Achim Congregation, of Bath, Me., has re-organized and has undergone a great change in its policies. The congregation conducts services at 9 Franklin street, has bought a new Sepher Torah and will hold a Silyum ha'Torah in the near future. The officers of the congregation are: Harry Brown, president; Benjamin Gedlman, vice-president; Morris Piszner, secretary, and Morris Wisenblatt, treasurer. The congregation has as its members the larger part of the Jewish residents of the city.
