Miss Gertrude Potter Is Only One Of Five To Win Admission

Miss Gertrude Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Potter of 105 Noyes Street, took highest rank of the 29 law students who passed the Maine bar examinations in this City last week. Miss Potter, a Boston University graduate, was the only one of five women on the list to attain rank entitling her to admission and just one less than half the 60 applicants reached or exceeded the minimum rank of 70. These are the successful students:

Joseph G. Brin of Brooklyn; Clifford C. Varney of Portland; John K. Turner of Hallowell; Max Canter of Waltham, Mass.; Henry C. Lynch of West Medford; Albert C. Blanchard of Bangor; John J. Tierney of South Boston; Noel W. Deering, Waterboro; Elvyn H. Gammage of Litchfield; George B. Barnes of Houlton; Stephen F. Kozlowski of Fall River; Harold V. Jewett of Calais; Richard B. Wilkes of Brooklyn, N. Y.; P. M. De Biase of Haverhill.

Linwood M. Seeley of Ashland; P. Ernest Pascucci of Lynn; Udell Bramson of Portland; Maxwell L. Rothman of Newark, N. J.; Edgar A. French of Attleboro; L. E. Spinney of North Berwick; Porter Thompson of Portland; Harry C. McManus of Washburn; George M. Davis of Fairfield; Armand O. LeBlanc of New Bedford; Maurice Davis of Portland; Ralph Marcus of Bangor, and Harry E. Wilbur of Swan's Island.
