1980
Kennebecamper
74th Season

Kennebec helps make boys strong candidates for winners in life.

Of course, the indispensable element in making boys life winners is good parenting which produces warm, loving, happy families. Life in any family, great or humble, is a mix of joy, frustration, fun and tears. The ideal family does not shelter it's children from that mix.

Kennebec adds the elements which help our boys cope, and grow up well. While we can never be fully responsible for our campers' eventual happiness or most of their personal choices, we can still give them a host of advantages which will increase their chances of enduring life's demands with grace and courage.

Kennebec helps stimulate a boy's intellect. Our diversified active environment not only increases the amount a boy learns, but also increases his capacity to learn. It is as if the ability to learn grows with experience. The more a boy learns early in life, the more he is able to learn later on.

Kennebec builds a boy's self esteem. The vital core of every person is his self-image. Each child must "slay a few dragons"; do some "not so easy things" successfully. Campers need to know that they count, that they aren't helpless, that they can change things. Personal worth at Kennebec is validated in each boy's mind by some tangible successful accomplishments. We give our boys the chance to make things happen; to win some battles. We try to acquaint our boys with excellence, to excel in some areas of his choice or interest, and do something better than most of his peers.

Kennebec increases social skills. Each camper knows we care, which helps give him an inner sense of security. Our campers come in contact with a variety of people. The boys observe the social behavior among our counselors. Verbal communication is an every day occurrence. Appearance and personal hygiene are stressed. A boy is encouraged to respect himself, feel worthy of having friends and make friendships.

Kennebec teaches basic values. Our daily camp life conveys to campers integrity, moral courage, honesty and a desire to treat others as each camper himself would like to be treated...in other words, we try to promote ethical values and conscience. We point out right from wrong. We reinforce good behavior, and set consequences (fair) for bad behavior. Our counselors model responsible behavior.

Kennebec develops attitudes of caring, consideration and peer group loyalty. Our counselors effectively demonstrate a non-exploitive association with one another, and a caring and loyalty among themselves. Our counselors are committed to camp and those in camp. These qualities "rub" off on our campers.

Kennebec sets reasonable goals and behavior standards. We run a "tight ship", and Kennebec has little difficulty in setting standards, and boundaries of behavior. Kennebec uses positive reinforcement to motivate our campers to perform and excel. Kennebec is consistent in this pattern summer to summer, which encourages, among our campers, higher self esteem, confidence and personal competence.

Kennebec is a doing camp that leads to success. We encourage our boys to try all kinds of activities, and they experience new things in an enjoyable way. We fill their lives with small challenges that lead to successful accomplishment. Success becomes a pattern in their lives. They expect it. They learn not to give up. The boys tend to persist until they have won their victory. They minimize their fear of failure, because the campers know, given time, they will make it through.

Kennebec fosters autonomy and independence. We give our boys responsibilities. We expect a few mistakes. We let them make some decisions. The boys count at Kennebec; their judgment is important. They do have some control over their camp destinies and their lives.

Kennebec cares. Caring is indispensable in a camper's growing up. It creates and strengthens in a child a sense of identity, a sense of worth, a feeling that he has a right to take up space on this earth.

We believe in every camper there is a winner ready to get out! We encourage that emergence.

DIRECTOR'S THOUGHTS

Over many years I have written about Kennebec from my own experiences as a Kennebecer and as a Director.

This year my thoughts go to the base that really makes Kennebec great. All camps have equipment on which to play and buildings in which to meet. However, the quality of faculty differs among camps. The Kennebec faculty stands without peer in quality and skill. Our Headmasters, Administrators, Trip Leaders and Section and Cabin leaders are the finest. Names such as Nate Kendig, Curt Donat, Max Riley and Bill Harvey are names of today who back up such recent legends as Herman Pritchard, Russell McGrath, Roger Lininger and Beanie Suloff. The stalwarts of the past are names like Morriarity and Messer, and our original founders, Charles Edwin Fox and Louis M. Fleisher. I could go on and on with names from both our Junior and Senior camps, but in so doing I would by-pass names of equally great masters, who your fathers, your uncles and even your grandfathers have known.

All of these who individually and cumulatively have created and passed on a "Kennebec Spirit", which oldsters and youngsters alike have come to know, to love and to thoroughly appreciate. Today during a time of cynicism and skepticism it is this spirit that keeps your camp great, and makes it a camp in which you can be proud. You and I have been privileged to know and to associate with these men who have made and kept Kennebec alive and strong.

A Salute to the "uncles" ... past and present!

VALEDICTORY

As this campfire draws to its end, we all complete another day and another camping season. But, for thirty-two of us here tonight, this marks the end of something more than just another day and another summer. For this marks the end of a very way of life; an experience that no matter how hard we try, we will never be able to duplicate. For this is the Kennebec experience.

For many of us here tonight, this is our fifth, sixth, and even seventh year at camp. For others, it is only their second and third year at Kennebec. But, no matter how long we have known each other at old C.K., the First Section stands here tonight with a shared feeling of pride and acknowledgment that we have passed through a truly remarkable and special camp. For Kennebec is the type of camp that we will be proud to send our sons to. Just as our fathers sent us here.

But what is the Kennebec experience? For some, it is simply the joy of being able to go to camp for a summer of fun and play. Yet for most, this experience is an unexplainable feeling of accomplishment and pride. It is an experience that gives us a newly found sense of responsibility, as well as sportsmanship.

To some, this season has seemed to be one of change from old traditions; however, it is important that we realize that if Kennebec is to exist, it must change with the times. Although Kennebec has gone through change, the Kennebec experience, that every camper derives from camp, does not change, and will never do so. We, the First Section of 1980, only hope that the Kennebec experience, the one most important tradition of all, will continue to be given to all campers throughout Kennebec's existence.

Fred Fox
