

MR. DAVE SILVERMAN is just about the busiest man in the State of Maine today. Mr. Silverman, in case your memory is a bit rusty, is the native son of old Biddeford who, after a roaming athletic career of considerable distinction at such institutions as Biddeford High School, Coburn Academy, Bridgton Academy, Westbrook Seminary and New Hampshire State, became smart and graduated himself into the business world as an impressario of the ancient and honorable art of boxing. Mr. Silverman has been knocking around the boxing business for quite a few years now. I don't imagine that he has grown exactly wealthy but that's beside the point. He's been in there hustling for his coffee-and-cakes and, after all, Tomorrow is always Another Day. In past years Mr. Silverman has taken a fling at promoting and it is his proud boast that he introduced "chain-store promoting" to this state having, in one season, operated successfully in Old Orchard, Biddeford and Sanford.

Right now, however, Mr. Silverman is concentrating on the managerial side of the racket. At last report the swarthy gent who used to play a roving guard at basketball and a galloping halfback at football, is the legal representative of no less than twenty-six gladiators all seeking fistic fame. I stress the fact that this was "at last report." I haven't seen Dave or heard from him since early this morning and, for all I know, another half dozen hopefuls may have been given stalls in his stable in the interim. At any rate, Mr. Silverman is busy. He has to keep busy to keep his twenty-six fighters working. After all, they too, like their coffee-and-cakes. In fact, from what I hear, the majority of them are young and growing lads with hearty appetites and I'm afraid that Mr. Silverman would be in very much of a spot indeed if he were to attempt, during a slack spell, to keep all those twenty-six appetites satisfied.

* * * * *

THE COMPLETE ROSTER of the Silverman entourage, listed without any attempt to class the fighters other than to weight, shows the following names: Rudy Vastano, 145; Abe Nathan, 142; Lee Anderson, 147; George Blaisdell, 137; Eddie Burke, 160; Hugh Bowley, 148; Henry Lynch, 126; Elmer Ferguson, 152; Tony Brunetti, 110; Bill Hogan, 150; Bill O'Connell, 150; Duke Doucette, 130; Bob Thompson, 130; "Skow" Coron, 137; Herman Logan, 119; Jimmy O'Donnell, 106; Fred Walters, 135; Ernie Zachow, 163; Wellman Mushrow, 110; Kenneth Ferguson, 143; Danny Evans, 130; Billy Sands, 140; MacKenney, 118; Babe Gaudette, 126; Kiki Stanley, 135; and Bill Durfee, 140. As I say this list may be incomplete since I have not consulted with Mr. Silverman over the holiday and I am aware that hardly a day passes without some hopeful ring aspirant signing articles with the old maestro. It should be noted, too, that nine of the boys listed above are still simonpures, — Brunetti, Hogan, O'Connell, Thompson, Coron, Logan, O'Donnell, Mushrow and Kenney.

* * * * *

Not wanting to embarrass the maestro and figuring it might cause hard-feelings between some of his more jealous performers I have not asked Mr. Silverman to rank his boys in one-two-three order. I assume, however, that it will be generally conceded that the two top spots in his stable at present belong to Abe Nathan and Rudy Vastano. With the exception of one bad night out in Biddeford — a night when, according to Dave, his mind was not on fighting, Nathan has cut quite a swath in Maine boxing circles since his recent return from the South-

... the other night.
... storm that got delayed and
... attendance was far, far from profit-paying.
... at Mr. "Chick" Hayes took it right on the jolly
... I wouldn't mention this only for the fact that so many
... ks were quick to start figuring up his profits the night of ... the Junior-Melody fight. I don't imagine they're worrying
... a bit about his losses. . . . DON'T GET ANY IDEA from this,
... though, that Mr. Hayes is squawking or looking for sympathy.
... He's been around long enough to know that you can't win
... every time you go to the post. Right now he's got several
... top-bouts lined up for future offering that ought to put him
... back in the "red." As I understand it he won't run next week,
... but the week after is very apt to see K. O. Castillo, the Bath
... Mexican, in there with the veteran Andy Callahan. Castillo
... holds a win over Sammy Fuller and it's only fair that he
... show no favoritism and try to scalp Sammy's perenial rival.
... . . . A DOZEN OR SO FANS have asked me whether or not
... heavyweight Bill Ferguson is going to hang up his war-gloves
... or keep on fighting. My only answer is that I don't know.
... It's up to him and I imagine he'll be governed to a considerable ... extent by what "Chick" Hayes has to say about it. Bill's
... greatest handicaps, of course, are those two short arms of his.
... Against a hard hitter they mean that he must take plenty of ... punishment, even when he wins. That isn't so good and I ... think that Fergie is smart enough to figure out the answer
... by and for himself. . . . ABE NATHAN, TOO, OUGHT to take ... time out and think things over. There are many fans who don't
... realize that he is in there despite the handicap of defective
... eyesight and that his limited vision makes it imperative for ... him to get in close to do his fighting. He's as game as they ... come, and he has plenty of class, but he'll be well advised if
... he talks things over with an eye specialist before donning the
... gloves again. . . . SPEAKING OF FIGHTING reminds me of
... the Expo and that reminds me, in turn, that I've promised
... several fans to inquire just why the Expo's Mr. Murphy can't ... get the building's ventilating system repaired and in working
... order. When the building is well-filled and all the lads and
... lassies at ringside and in the bleachers are puffing the vile
... weed, the galleryites are in a tough spot. As I understand
... there's a ventilating gadget in the roof that would clarify the ... situation in no time if it were only placed in working shape.
... So how about it, Mr. Murphy? After all, the folks in the gallery
... pay admission too. . . . MY FINAL SUGGESTION is that Mr.
... "Chick" Hayes provide steel helmets for the press row gang
... this coming Monday night. One battle royal is bad enough, but

Nathan And Castillo In Bath Mix Friday

Special Despatch to The Press Herald

Bath, June 15—In a battle for the State welter crown, Kayo Castillo of Bath, widely recognized as the current titlist, takes on the fast and hard hitting Abe Nathan of Portland in the main bout of the Friday night card at the Arcade Arena.

The Mexican flash is down to 144 pounds result of two weeks' hard work. Nick Mihalos, Bath's triple-threat promoter, referee and manager of Castillo, isn't so sure he's made such a hot match, as a lot of the local fans are laying it on the line in favor of the smart Jewish lad from Portland. Castillo is aiming at a go with one of New England's top-notchers and expects within a week to get down to 142, his best weight.

Buster Green, CCC scrapper, and Jackie Davis of Bath will meet in the semi-final. Larrauping Lou Cooper, promising local heavy, gets a test after seven straight wins, meeting Henry Heald, former heavy champ of his Army division in the Philippines. Guy Wright and Kid Stockman of Portland, who nearly stole the last show from Rudy Vastano and Gaby Poulin, are billed for a repeat appearance.

MAINE WELTERWEIGHT TITLE AT STAKE WHEN CASTILLO AND NATHAN ENTER RING

Bath and Portland Fighters Will Give Boxing Fans the Battle for Which They Have Clamored Friday Evening

CHAMP!

K. O. Castillo, this city, who defends Maine welterweight title at Arcade, Friday evening.

CHALLENGER!

Abe Nathan, Portland, who seeks to lift crown sported by the Mexican flash.

Pictured above are the two gentlemen scheduled to entertain half a thousand fight fans, or thereabouts, at the Arcade arena, Friday evening, for a matter of 18 minutes, or less, when they clash for the welterweight championship of Maine. On the left you have "K. O." Castillo, native of San Antonio, who has conquered some of the best boys in the country. He has a clean-cut claim on the Maine welterweight throne, being a resident of this city for several years. Opposite the Mexican flash is Abe Nathan, smart, two-fisted Portland sensation, and a favorite in this city where he has copped three successive fights over top-notch opposition.

There seems to be little question but that the scrap will attract 500 fans, or more. It is the fight Shipping City fans have been clamoring for the last two months.

Castillo Winds Up

The Bath fighter put the finishing touches to a rigorous training program, late Wednesday afternoon with a speedy, eight round workout, open to the public, at the Arcade arena. Three rounds were actual boxing with Gaby Poulin while the other five were with the rope and shadow boxing. At the close of the session he weighed in at 145, the lightest he has been since last Fall.

Assuming Castillo will come in tomorrow evening between 145-146, he'll probably have a couple pounds on Nathan or, they may enter the ring at almost identical weights as the Portland boy scaled 143 Tuesday and will probably add a couple pounds the last 48 hours.

Ordinarily the Mexican ace would be a top-heavy favorite to whip Nathan but the fine showing of the Portland boy in the Bath ring of late has gained him a local following, a following that's bold enough to pick him to beat Castillo tomorrow evening. Like the Mexican boy, Nathan is fast, hits with either hand, and covers well.

Promoter Nick Mihalos announces Henry Heald, husky Phippsburg battler, won't be able to meet Lou Cooper, Woolwich, in the top prelim. Late Tuesday afternoon Heald suffered a fracture to two fingers, on his left hand, dropping a heavy rock on the same while employed in road construction. Mr. Mihalos goes to Portland this evening to obtain a suitable opponent for Cooper.

Otherwise tomorrow evening's card will be as announced with Jackie Davis, this city, meeting Buster Green, Lewiston CCC camper in the semi-final; Clarence Oliver, Bath, facing Paul Pinkham, Boothbay Harbor, and Young Guy Wright, this city, re-matched with Young Stockton, Portland.

The greatest crowd of fans to view an Arcade arena boxing show since the days the late Jimmy Sawyer was packing 'em in to the rafters, is expected to witness this evening's title scrap in which the ultra-smart Glaforo "K. O." Castillo, of this city and San Antonio, defends his Maine welterweight crown against the speedy, sharp shooting Abe Nathan of Portland. And with a strong set of supporting bouts, all in all it should be a gala evening for the fight fans.

While Castillo, as sweet a 145-pound fighting machine as ever entered a Maine ring, rules a favorite to turn back Nathan's challenge, the Portland boy has his backing and they're going down on him to beat the Mexican flash, possibly stop him.

Over the period of more than four years that Castillo has fought in and out of the Shipping City, he has never lost a decision at the Arcade arena. He has dropped but a couple in fights throughout the country against the best boys in the business.

When one speaks of Castillo they speak of a fighter that has beaten Sammy Fuller of Boston, Tracey Cox of Indianapolis, and lost to Fitz Zivic of Pittsburgh, the outstanding welterweight in the world today, next to Barney Ross, by a hair-line decision at Holyoke, Mass. In his last two fights with Paul Junior of Lewiston, considered by many as one of the greatest lightweights in the country today, Castillo defeated him decisively at Sherbrooke, Canada, and Biddeford, having Junior down in the latter scrap.

For Abe Nathan to beat a boy of this calibre would almost seem to be asking too much, but, as the writer said before, there are many who figure the hard punching Portland sensation has an even chance of upsetting the dope and "tagging" Castillo in tonight's main event. They've seen Nathan score three successive wins at the Arcade over rough, tough boys, two of 'em by clean knockouts and the other by a technical kayo. They saw him stop Ray Vachon, Dover, N. H., welterweight champ of the Granite State last few months while Castillo has been comparatively idle. In his last bout, at Berlin, N. H., the Mexican flash defeated Patsy Santos of Revere, Mass., decisively.

And that's the story on tonight's main bout, a bout that may see anything happen and one that should make local ring history.

BATH FAT BOY SINKS NATHAN IN 4 ROUNDS

By MILAN O. WELCH
(Sports Editor)

Kayo Costello, the Fat Boy of Bath, may be a pit paunchy about the waistline, but he can still punch. He proved that last night when, in the storm-battered Bath Arena before one of the largest crowds in years, he tipped over Portland Abe Nathan after four hectic heats. At that, the expatriate from the Rio Grande had to be content with a technical knockout. Portland Abe was sick and wobbling, but he was still in there punching back, when merciful Dave Silverman gave the towel a heave-o. A bad cut above Abe's left optic was the impelling reason for Mr. Silverman's wise and humane action.

Last night's fight was billed for the welterweight championship of Maine, and the weights were announced as Costello, 146½ and Nathan, 143. What the weights really were is a matter of conjecture. Mr. Silverman, following the catastrophe, broke down and confessed that his Abe weighed 145. Mr. Nick Mahalos, the referee-promoter-manager of the evening's festivities, gamely stuck to his story that Costello weighed 146½. Mr. Mahalos also insisted that his protege will gladly make 142 pounds and pin back Paul Junior's ears anytime the Lewiston boy is ready.

Expert opinion, however,—as offered by Mr. Charles Plummer at ringside, had a different opinion regarding Costello's weight. The general idea seemed to be that if the Senor weighed 146½ last night he can without doubt make 120 pounds and go after the bantam-weight championship of the world. It must be admitted, though, that whatever the Senor's weight last night, there was nothing wrong with his punching. He was winging that old left hand and, on occasion, flashing both maulers in punch-trading spurts,—and his punches were hurting.

The first round was even enough with lanky Abe from Portland holding his own in a punch flurry just before the bell. The second round saw Nathan grabbing the edge, largely through good use of a left hand that both jabbed and hooked and kept the Senor at a safe distance. Nathan started the third session as though he'd really hit his stride. Then, after a minute, he ran into a couple of hard lefts to the body. As he backed away, hurt, Costello followed him and dumped him for a nine-count with a hard right smash to the chin. For the rest of the round the pair traded punches like longshoremen. Costello threw them faster but Nathan, while on retreat, was winging home desperate right uppercuts and making a great fight of it.

Paulin, Nathan In Main Bout

Fight Fans Assured of Good Entertainment in Tonight's Card.

Professional boxing will return to Saint John tonight when "Gabby" Paulin and Abe Nathan, two of the classiest mitt slingers in New England, meet at the Forum in the main bout on the card which will be presented to fight fans by Jack McAllister, local promoter. Paulin, who hails from Augusta, Me., and Nathan who makes his home in Portland, Me., both come to this city with an impressive record in New England welterweight circles.

In the eight round semi-final bout, Lee Anderson, colored battler from Portland, will trade punches with Jackie Davis of Boston. These two boys are well known in the middleweight classes in the Eastern States. The fans may be assured of plenty of action in this bout as both fighters pack plenty of punch.

In the curtain raiser two of Saint John's own boxers, Al Ledden and Merlin Gauthier will mix it up in a six round affair.

The fights will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Abe Nathan Loses To Gabby Paulin In Bout At St. John, N. B.

Jackie Davis Of Boston Wins Over Lee Anderson In Semi-Final

Special Despatch to The Press Herald
Saint John, N. B., June 21.—Two Portland welterweight scrappers came off second best in a fistic revival here tonight, staged by the same promoter, Jack McAllister, who introduced the up and coming Al McCoy to Saint John fight fans several years ago.

Gabby Paulin, hard punching French lad from Augusta, Me., had a torrid go with Abe Nathan of Portland. But won mainly on the advantage of a nasty cut he opened the Jewish boxer's right eye early in the match. He outweighed Nathan by two pounds, 147 to 145, and when he ripped the wound still further to smear blood all over the loser's face in the tenth and final round the referee halted the bout. A technical kayo, it was a slugfest throughout and Nathan was game.

Jackie Davis, 145, had an easy victory over Lee Anderson, 145, in the semi-final, the little Boston puncher outpointing the Portland man most of the way. The bout went eight rounds.

DeCarlo, Soldato Receive
Unpopular Decisions; Shapiro Wins

With three thousand roaring, screaming fans to egg them on at the Barracks last night, Joey Soldato and Gerald Markey fought six lightning rounds to an unfavorable draw to open the evening.

Joey, with a seven pound advantage over the 124 pound Markey, rushed the fight in the first round but failed to make any particular impression on the Vermont champ. The lad from across the lake was measuring his man out and waited for a close-up before shooting several swift lefts to Joey's inummy. The first round ended with the honors about even, although the soldier was obviously the faster.

Markey came back in the second round to send a long hard left to Joey's midriff, but the local boy was ready and drove the Vermont-er into a corner, shooting a hard right and left to the face that didn't do Markey any good. The "gun chewer" came out of it like a whirlwind and gave Soldato a heavy punishing for the remainder of the round, which by that time was nearly over.

Markey scored Joey in the next two rounds, seeking his body and finding it most of the time, and in the third sent two hard blows to Joey's heart that smacked way across the hall.

Joey slid a right to Markey's jaw in the final round that sent him rocking on his heels, but the white slips read "draw" when it was all over, and the crowd voiced its usual disapproval of an even decision.

Frankie DeCarlo of the Post and Abe Nathan of Portland, Maine, featured in the second bout with the Portlander holding the edge over the local lad for the greater share of the fight. Decision went to DeCarlo but the fans roared their anger at a decision that should have been reversed. The Maine boy was a whirlwind and obviously out of DeCarlo's class, although the soldier took a terrific amount of punishment without showing it.

Coons and Sexton provided the howling fans urged him to batter the defenceless underman. Julius is said to have resorted to a little savagery while hugging the canvas by sinking his teeth in Celdon's arm. Celdon retorted by allowing him to get up and then getting an arm lock a few minutes later to end the match. It lasted just fifteen minutes and is probably the last time these two will meet for some time. Celdon won the approval of the fans by refusing to resort to unfair tactics and gave the mighty Julius a lesson in more than wrestling.

Two Post elimination bouts started the card. Gogan, Co. C scored a knockout over Rose, Co. I in the first bout, with Barkon, Co. I, repeating the performance over Mytych, Co. E.

All in all it was a full evening, with the largest attendance ever recorded at the Post, and reflects credit upon the Recreation Officers, Lieutenant Millener and Sgt. William Burke.

Berger, local bobsledder, was announcer. Judges were Spearman, Blankman and Frchette. Crouch was referee.

Markey, Nathan to Box
in Plattsburg Show

Gerald Markey, Vermont state lightweight champion, and Abe Nathan, local Jewish lightweight formerly of Portland, Me. will leave early tomorrow morning for Plattsburg, N. Y., where they are scheduled to face Joey Soldato and Frankie DeCarlo in the semi-finals of the Plattsburg Barracks ring card.

Markey has met many first-class fighters during his short career and has always put up splendid showings. He has been training ardently during the past week as he realizes he will be up against a tough opponent in Soldato, and wants to be at his best.

Nathan has also been in training hard in order to be in prime shape for his return engagement with DeCarlo. He knows that DeCarlo is a speedy fellow, but thinks he can "take him".

It will be the first time in about a month that either of the local boxers has fought.

INQUIRING REPORTER

Are you glad daylight saving time is over?

Standard time still has its followers who insist that it is a much better method than the recently ended extra hour of daylight. Others stick to the "faster time." Here are four versions.

SAUL GERBER, salesman:

"Personally I prefer daylight saving time. Being a golf fan, as well as a salesman, I like that extra hour of playing time afforded me in the afternoon so that I can get in a few holes after completing work for the day. I suppose the return to standard time helps a lot of people, but I would like to see an extra few weeks of fast time."

WILLIAM S. BELL, entertainer: "Yes I am glad it is over. For my money they can eliminate it entirely. It's too bad people can't discipline themselves to one method of time and everybody stay on the same schedule the year around. I don't hold at all with this business of fooling with the clock just because Spring arrives and then monkeying some more with it in the fall season."

Bell

ABRAHAM E. NATHANSON, salesman: "I think daylight saving time proved its value during the war. It seems to me we had an extra two hours of time during those years and everything seemed to work out for the best. If it was good enough to help us win a war, why isn't it good enough to live by in peace time?"

Nathanson

GEORGE C. KERN, meat packer: "No, I'm not. I think the more activities we can have in the daytime the better things are. I have liked daylight saving time myself for a long time. Of course, when I was a young fellow sparking a girl, I didn't think so much of the idea. Now I am all for that extra hour given by fast time."

B'nai B'rith Will Sponsor Hillel Night

Hillel Night will be observed at 8:15 p. m. Friday in the Temple Beth El when a group of students from the University of Maine will conduct the services under the direction of Rabbi Mordecai Chertoff and Hillel Director Rabbi Milton H. Elephant.

The members of the Sisterhood of the Temple Beth El will be hostesses at the tea following the services. Mrs. Max Cooper and Mrs. Nathan Weinman are chairmen and will be assisted by Mrs. Abraham Nathanson, Mrs. David Cutler, Mrs. Samuel Levenson and Mrs. Louis Rappaport.

Members of B'nai B'rith assisting as hostesses are Mrs. William Sidman and Mrs. Sidney I. Levine, chairmen of Hillel, and Mrs. Bernad Zade, Mrs. David Orloff, Mrs. Milton Burke, Mrs. Joseph Modes and Mrs. Philip Levinsky.

Invitations have been extended to the students at Portland Junior College, Westbrook Junior College, Gorham State Teachers College, Center Youth.

Members of B'nai B'rith who will open their homes for the students during their weekend here are Mrs. Louis Lerman, Mrs. Morris Singer, Mrs. David Millman, Mrs. Harry Rice, Mrs. Abraham Passman, Mrs. Irving Feder.

Mrs. Max Cooper, Mrs. Albert Chase, Mrs. Samuel Byrnes and Mrs. Myer Cope.

Rabbi And Mrs. Bennett Will Be Given Farewell Reception Sunday.

Rabbi and Mrs. Ephraim I. Bennett will be the guests of honor at 3 p. m. Sunday at a farewell reception in Temple Beth El. The rabbi will soon leave to serve a congregation in Denver, Col.

Dr. Saul R. Polisner will be chairman of the affair. Assisting him will be Mrs. Benjamin E. Finn, Gerald Slosberg, Mrs. Morris Murinson, Mrs. Samuel Finansky and Mrs. Samuel Silverman.

Doctor Polisner will convey the sentiments of the congregation, and Edward Berman, president, will make the presentation of the gift. Also speaking will be Mrs. Finn, past president of the Temple's Sisterhood.

Cantor Kurt Messerschmidt will lead the Temple choir in a special program for the reception.

RABBI BENNETT was installed as rabbi of Temple Beth El Dec. 3, 1948 but served the congregation prior to that time during its formation.

At the time of his installation the Temple, the city's first and only conservative congregation, was meeting on the second floor of the largest office building of the Ricker Park development on Forest Avenue near Noyes Street.

From the second floor Temple, the congregation moved to the corner of Noyes Street where it occupied a former dwelling place.

Under the leadership of the rabbi, the entire block bounded by Deering Avenue, Wadsworth Street, Devonshire Street and Longfellow Street was purchased and the present synagogue and school building was erected at a cost approaching $150,000.

The congregation moved into the new religious center in 1951 and under the leadership of the rabbi, has grown and become an active member of the suburban religious picture.

A frequent speaker on interfaith panels in Protestant churches in the city, the rabbi was appointed the Jewish chaplain of the U. S. Marine Hospital and the Brunswick Naval Air Facility as well as a public interest member of the Portland Rent Advisory Board during his stay here.

He will become the rabbi of Beth Hamigdah Hagadol in Denver, Col., next month prior to the high holidays.

A native of Baltimore, he was graduated from Yeshiva College, magna cum laude in 1937 and following a year's graduate work in chemistry at Johns Hopkins University, he entered Jewish Theological Seminary, New York, where he was graduated in 1942. During World War II he was an army chaplain and following the war he returned for graduate work at Hebrew University. He came here July 1, 1948 from Flushing, N. Y., to begin his work as spiritual leader of the congregation.

PERSONAL RESUME

I was born in Brooklyn, New York, on January 18th, 1932, the son of Al Sobel and Mona Sobel. I lived in Brooklyn, New York, until I was seven years old and moved to Laurelton, Long Island. While living at Laurelton, Long Island, I attended public school locally and then went to Far Rockaway High School and graduated from Central High School, Valley Stream, Long Island, in 1949. I left New York in September of 1949 to attend the University of Miami. I spent my Freshman year there and in September, 1950, I transferred to Adelphi College, Garden City, New York, where I spent my Sophomore year. In September, 1951, I returned to the University of Miami and received a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree in June, 1953. During my undergraduate years in college I majored in political science and minored in economics. Incidentally I took almost every course offered at the University of Miami in government and constitutional law, including graduate seminars in civil liberties. I then went on to Law School at the University of Miami and received my Bachelor of Law Degree in June of 1955. In addition to my studies I took a strong interest in extra curricular activities such as wrestling and other intramural sports. In high school I was a member of the football team and played guard and tackle. While attending college I worked as a salesman for many different business firms in the Miami area and at one time I had my own business. During Law School I was secretary of my law fraternity, Tau Epsilon Rho, a member of Bar and Gavel, and an active participant in student body government.

I passed the Florida Bar exam and was admitted to practice in October of 1955. Soon after I passed the Federal Bar examination and was admitted to practice before the Federal District Court. Since I have been a lawyer I have taken an active interest in community affairs and during this time have been a member of the following organizations: The Miami Junior Chamber of Commerce, Young Democrats, Golden Years Committee of the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce, Florida Bar Association, Dade County Bar Association. I have participated in various fund-raising campaigns for the Community Chest and United Fund. I have been instrumental in obtaining legislation for the older citizens and ordinances preventing bomb scares. In my law practice I have specialized in the trial of criminal and civil litigation. Is the Plaintiff in the Federal Suit which caused reapportionment.

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Nathanson

It is with deep regret that I have to write and tell you that I will not be able to attend the wedding of Maxine to Peter. It is a bad time of year for me to be away from the office - and so I will have to forego this great pleasure.

This summer I had the pleasure of getting to know your daughter - while she stayed with me - and she is a credit to you. She is a warm, bright and loving girl. I am sure that she will have a wonderful life with Peter - they are very much in love and I know have every chance for happiness.

May I wish you both much 'naches' and joy from your daughter - and may you live to see grandchildren from them.

Affectionately

Incidentally, I just made a reservation for Mother to go down to Miami - she is looking forward to seeing her grandson married.

Jan 8, 1965,

Dear Jennie and Abe,

Now that we are Machpucha I will dispense with the formality of calling you Mr & Mrs. Nathanson and you can please call us Mona and Al. I hope you will forgive me typing my letters but being a writer I think better with the typewriter.

We are so sorry that your illness made you miss the most magnificent wedding of your daughter Maxine and our son Peter, except for it being small it lacked nothing in elegance beauty and love...as well as good friends and good food, liquor and music. It was all Maxine's doing and you can be proud of the way "she did it herself." The pictures will tell more about it, but it was just beautiful and the only fly in the ointment was that you were not both there with us to quell and enjoy.

We also loved and enjoyed Gail's company, and beauty of face, body and spirit. Grandma was in seventh heaven and we were happy that at 32 she was able to enjoy this great event in our lives.

The children are back from the honeymoon and we expect them to dinner tonight. I had lunch with Maxine and Peter on Tuesday when I went with her to buy towels and linens. They have a darling apartment on Miami Beach and no two honeymooners were ever happier or more in love, and we are all so happy for them and with them. I know she will make Peter a wonderful wife and that she got the best boy in the world. Rest assured that all your dreams for her will come to pass.

Love to you both,

Mona and Al Sobel
