Israel Anniversary TV Show Planned By Jewry

The Jewish Community of Portland will mark the tenth anniversary of Israel's independence with a television show at 2 p.m. Sunday on WCSH-TV.

The program, "This Is The Land", will be under the direction of Rabbi Morris Bekritsky. Children of the Portland Hebrew School will perform Israeli songs and dances.

Naomi Nalerman, an Israeli sabra (native of the country), will play the "chaili," an Israeli flute, and Cantor Samuel Zimelman and Joseph Taylor will sing. William Cohen, chairman of the 1958 United Jewish Appeal will also speak.

Special filmed portions have been provided by the Israeli consulate in New York.

The actual anniversary of the Palestinian nation will be April 25.
