Mrs. Dolores Caron had conceived and directed the decorating of the hall in a "Space" theme. The stage was transformed into a launching platform, with satellites hung overhead, and the walls represented open skies of midnight blue against which rockets and missiles were shown in various stages of launching and flight. On each window was a different painting in keeping with the theme, all done by Mrs. Caron.

Mrs. H. R. Marin and Mrs. H. L. Gosselin were co-chairmen of the ball, proceeds of which are used by the Patronesses to benefit the hospital and personnel.
