

Mr and Mrs. Louis Goldstein are passing the summer at New Meadows, where they are occupying a cottage with friends. Mr. Goldstein is the proprietor of the Boston 'shoe store, and his wife and little son have recently joined him, coming from their former home in Boston.