

JUVENILE MINSTRELS AID TEMPLE FUND

Youngsters Give Show at Beth Israel Synagogue Wednesday Afternoon

Five dollars was cleared for the James W. Temple fund as a result of the very small admissions for the juvenile minstrel show given in the vestry of Beth Israel synagogue on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the close of school. The show was enjoyed from beginning to end, and a song and dance number, "Smile, Darn Ya. Smile", by the end men, Albert Povich, Edward "Sonny" Cogan, Robert "Bobby" Levin, and Donald "Donny" Povich, "brought down the house."

Miss Ida Lindenberg was pianist for the show, which was under the capable direction of Mrs. David S. Cogan. Miss Isabel Gediman was interlocutor, and others in the cast, besides the end men, were Bladen "Bobby" Smith, Eleanor Gediman, Ruth Cogan, Rena Gediman, Ida Cohen, Rhoda Kutz, Gerald Cogan. Each one in the cast had a song and dance number in addition to other numbers of the enjoyable program. An impersonation of Mae West by Miss Cogan made a decided hit.

Pictures of the group were taken at the close of the show. Thanks are tendered the "Y" for the use of chairs for the show.
