

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET IN AUBURN SYNAGOGUE SUNDAY

Sixteen From This City Attend Affair at Which 150 Were Present

There were 16 from this city attending the Mother-Daughter banquet sponsored by the Beth Abraham Sisterhood in the Auburn synagogue on Sunday afternoon. More than 150 were in attendance. Those from this city were the following: Mrs. David S. Cogan, Miss Ruth Cogan, Mrs. Morris H. Cohen, Miss Ida R. Cohen, Mrs. Arthur W. Gediman, Miss Eleanor Gediman, Mrs. Solomon K. Greenblatt, Miss Sophie G. Greenblatt, Mrs. Samuel Korolick, Miss Pat Fine, Mrs. Max Kutz, Miss Sylvia Kutz, Mrs. Morris S. Povich, Miss Emily Gediman, Mrs. Joseph I. Smith, Miss Ruth E. Cohen.

Rabbi Morris H. Chapman was the principal speaker of the afternoon. His subject was "Mothers' Day Thoughts." Grace was said by Rabbi Nathanson and the address of welcome was given by Mrs. Molly F. Baker, president of the Sisterhood, who presented Mrs. Harry Rubinoff, chairman of the banquet committee, as toastmistress. The four generations represented in the Sisterhood furnished the theme of the banquet. Mrs. Rose Miller, one of the oldest ladies present, delighted the audience with her fine tribute to the great grandmothers. Mrs. Myer Shapiro gave the toast to the grandmothers; Mrs. Rubinoff, the toast to the daughters; and Miss Anne Miller, the toast to the mothers. Rabbi Nathanson spoke on "Mothers' Day."

There was a musical program under the direction of Miss Alice Flood. Selections were given by a quartet composed of Mrs. Ann Haddad, Miss Sally Green, Alex Deschenes and Alfred Frank, with Emile H. Roy at the piano; and vocal duets by Miss Regina Cantlin and Mr. Frank, with Mr. Roy also at the piano. An accordion selection was played by Miss Estelle Finesilver of Boston, a granddaughter of Mrs. Myer Shapiro.

The banquet was prepared by a committee from the Sisterhood consisting of Mrs. Henry I. Baker, Mrs. Max Semer, Mrs. Myer Shapiro, Mrs. Israel N. Ward, Mrs. Israel A. Miller, Mrs. Harry Persky and Mrs. Joseph T. Lelansky. Miss Anne Miller was in charge of the decorations, which consisted of Spring flowers and potted plants, the latter arranged on the stage and at the windows to represent window boxes. Candles and flowers decorated the piano. The guest speaker and others taking part in the program were at a long table at the head of the room.

Assisting in the serving were a group of Boy Scouts, among them Samuel Widrowitz, Melvin Hymen, Jacob Davidson, Leonard Margolin and Edwin Lelansky.
