

BETH ISRAEL MEN CONDUCT A DANCE

Seventy-Five Couples Enjoy Party at the Sedgwick Tuesday Evening

With Hotel Sedgwick as the scene of the occasion, more than 75 couples attended the dance held Tuesday night under the auspices of the men's congregation of Beth Israel synagogue. In addition to those from Bath, guests were present from Augusta, Brunswick, Gardiner, Lewiston-Auburn, Portland and Rockland.

Henry I. Gediman's six piece Stringed Rhythm Band played for dancing from 8.30 to 12.30, in the dining room. Jacob Goldstein, president of the congregation, David S. Cogan and Sam Prawer were the committee in charge of the dance, and received many requests for another such affair in the Sedgwick.
