Colbians Add Spice and Style to Waterville*

*Text by Edward Hershey based upon interviews by Stephen Collins '74.

A haberdashery in its centennial year still tailors to customers the old-fashioned way. In a shopping center across the street, the owner of the area's only children's bookshop prereads every title on her shelves. Next door, a custom framer treats wall posters and hobbyists' acrylic landscapes as if they were masterpieces, and down the block the proprietor of a fledgling gourmet shop stocks brands of wine, cheese and paté unfamiliar to many customers.

This is Main Street, Waterville, Maine, and it is not too different in 1991 than it was in the days when it and America's other Main Streets were being celebrated by Sherwood Anderson, sentimentalized by Thornton Wilder and lampooned by Sinclair Lewis. At City Hall, the city's part-time mayor is a soft-spoken local attorney who seems a shoo-in for reelection even though his political style is sometimes ridiculed by a featured columnist at the Morning Sentinel about a hundred yards away.

Professionals on Main Street are right there among the shopkeepers, and they include a dentist who has been drilling teeth for 40 years and now has a son for a partner. Father-and-son teams are not uncommon on Main Street—another such tandem is at the heart of the city's busiest insurance agency.

There are gathering spots on Main Street like the doughnut shop where the coffee is fresh and the conversation expansive. And, of course, there are banks, including a savings and loan that is neither under investigation nor in danger of collapse because it always makes prudence count more than greed. The bank's youthful president is an almost constant presence in the lobby, bounding out of his glass-walled office all day long (and until 7 p.m. on Thursdays) to greet customers by their first names.

The men and women who provide goods and services on Main Street come from varying backgrounds, but many have at least two things in common: they never expected to be doing what they are doing today on Main Street in Waterville, Maine, and they are graduates of Colby.

Yes, the banker and the bookseller are Colby alumni and so are the mayor and the columnist who occasionally excoriates him. The man who runs the haberdashery went to Colby and so did his ageless uncles, who still come to work every day at the store their father opened 100 years ago. The father and son in the insurance business are Colbians, as are the father and son who are dentists and the husband and wife who own the doughnut shop. The framer, the gourmet grocer and the children's bookseller all went to Colby, as did at least two dozen other men and women who work along Main Street.

On the pages that follow Colby takes a closer look at 10 Colbians on Main Street. Some were born in Waterville, others had never set foot in town before the day they entered college. But all decided they liked the small town atmosphere enough to stay. Many graduates—probably most—strike out for major cities with grand designs after their Colby years. But a few remain or return, making Waterville richer by their, and thus Colby's, presence.

At the Silver Street Tavern, where Bruce Forsley '79 is a proprietor, there is a Ludy Burger and a Pacy Burger on the menu. But there is no Howard Burger.

"See, nobody knows me," says Howard Miller '40, with a big grin. "I'm the power behind the throne."

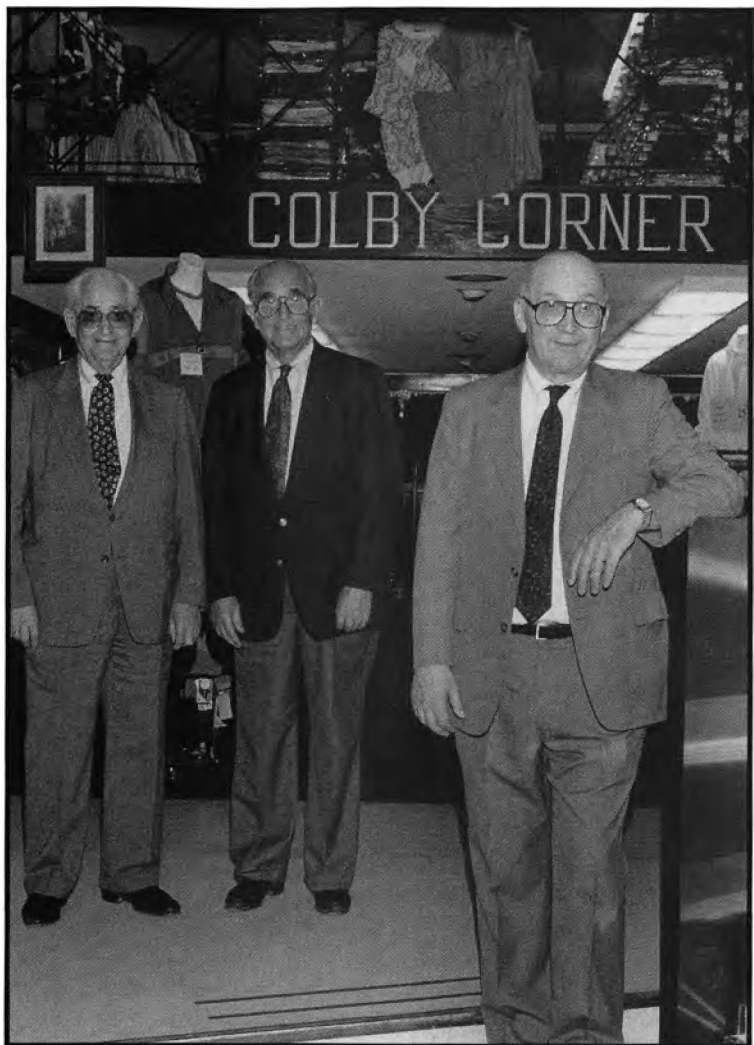

Ludy '21 and Pacy Levine '27, Miller's uncles and his partners in the Wm. Levine and Sons haberdashery, are Colby and Main Street legends.

Miller says he never planned to enter the business. "I was going to go to law school," he recalls. But when he returned from World War Two there was a shortage of help and he agreed to pitch in temporarily.

Forty-six years later, "the kid" runs the store. That is obvious during an interview interrupted so he can find a key for a maintenance man, approve a check for a clerk, advise a customer on the right shade of gray for a pair of dress shoes and dispatch a saleswoman to wait on someone in "the Colby Corner," a shrine to alma mater established by Ludy and Pacy.

His uncles (they are called "the boys" everywhere in town) still work a full day. "Ludy's our publicity agent," Miller said. "He knows all of the history of this area and of Colby. Pacy's the sports fan."

When times required it, Levine's ran tabs for needy Colby students, trusting that they would settle accounts after they graduated and landed jobs. Almost all of them did. "It made us feel good if we helped some of them out that way," said Miller, himself an active alumnus who is president of the Fifty-Plus Club. "We always get a big thrill when so many of them come down to say hello when they're in town."

Quarterback Club

DEDICATED TO PROMOTING THE INTERESTS OF
COLBY ATHLETICS AND OF GOOD FELLOWSHIP

November 13, 1957

To Members of the Quarterback Club:

What a wonderful meeting it was today! Personally, I feel it was one of our most enthusiastic ones.

Ray Knauff, the accountant, said that we had eighty there today, which makes the largest crowd of the season.

Gifts were presented to the members of the Athletic Department, shirts from the C. F. Hathaway Company, shoes from Harold Alford, maple syrup from Theodore Hodgkins, agricultural box from the State Department of Agriculture and set of dishes to Coach Clifford and Coach Coons from E. B. Denton.

Lee Williams called on the following players; and he asked Redmond who was the toughest player he played against all year and Redmond thought Bob Michelson of Bowdoin, Dave Fowler was asked what the toughest line he played against and in his opinion, it was the University of Maine line. Bob Auriemma was asked what his biggest moment in Colby athletics was and he replied, to carry out every assignment correctly for doing that would allow each play to succeed, if each man carried out his assignment correctly. Connors was asked his biggest thrill and it was the first play of the Williams game, when we went for 40 yards in the first play and then on to score and his second thrill was when Sargent kicked the field goal at Bowdoin. Sargent was asked his biggest thrill and he went on to explain humorously that how a lineman dreams of getting into the scoring columns, instead of batting their brains against a wall each Saturday and his thrill was getting that field goal at Bowdoin.

Lee asked Line Coach John Coons how he accounted for the good line play at Colby this year. John replied, it was good hard work, with each player doing his utmost every day to get in the finest condition possible. John felt that this was the finest year he has ever had in being associated with football. To him it was a great honor to be associated with a fine school like Colby and to work for such a fine bunch of boys that we have at Colby.

Lee, in introducing Bob Clifford, gave a great deal of praise to Bob for bringing Colby football to the standing it is now enjoying. When Bob rose to his feet, he was given a standing ovation from all members present. (There is no question in my mind that Bob has the respect and love of the Quarterback Club. To think that you men have supported him so warmly and loyally for the past two years speaks well for each one of you.)

COLBY
COMMUNITY

Quarterback Club

DEDICATED TO PROMOTING THE INTERESTS OF
COLBY ATHLETICS AND OF GOOD FELLOWSHIP

December 10, 1957

To Members of the Quarterback Club:

To those of you who watched the hockey games last Friday and Saturday you must have gotten a great thrill out of the great exhibition Colby gave us in tieing Hamilton in the last 10 seconds of the game and then holding Dartmouth to a 1-0 in the game Saturday night.

As you know, Colby is holding the invitational hockey tournament December 19, 20 and 21st. The colleges competing are Hamilton, Williams and Bowdoin, and of course Colby. The admission for three games is $2.50 a ticket. I am enclosing a ticket for you, won't you take one???

If you should find you can't use it yourself, give it to your good-looking secretary, wife or some prospective boy. Will you make the check out to Colby College and send it to me right away as Jack Kelley would like to know how we do on the advance sale.

If you want more than one ticket, just let me know and we will be more than happy to see that you get the number you request.

We were all saddened by the death of Evelyn Levine, sister of Pacy and Ludy Levine, two of our most conscientious members and also the passing of Charles Vigue, who attended many of our meetings before he was taken sick.

Don't forget the basketball game Thursday night against Bowdoin at 8:15 and the game Monday night with Dartmouth at 8:15.

May I take this opportunity to wish each one of you a very happy holiday season and thank you for your continued interest in Colby College. It is indeed a great pleasure for us to know we have so many friends of the College.

Dear Ludy and Pacy,

How good it was of you to give that five thousand dollars toward the Administration Building! The College ought to be administered in good style with a room bearing your names in which to carry on the work!!

You have always been fine, loyal friends of the College and this latest gift is still more evidence of your willingness to be of help. Do stop in to see me at the office when you are on the campus, if you have a chance.

Meanwhile, please be sure that all of us here on Mayflower Hill greatly appreciate your generosity.

Colby C Club Newsletter

December 11, 1957

Hi, all C-Club men? Our mid-winter letter hopes to bring you up to date on the activities here on campus, and the first thing we would like to tell you is of the truly wonderful Homecoming Weekend we had on November 2nd this year. Maine played us at football, and while we lost the game 14 - 13, it was a wonderful game.

The best part of the weekend was the fact that a great many of your colleagues were able to get back because of the truly outstanding affair on Friday night which was Bill Millett Nite. It was a rainy evening, yet upwards of 800 people were at the Fieldhouse to do honor to the man all of you know so well. I suppose a full report of the evening has been given you but I would like to point out that he was most pleased to see so many of you letter-winners back that night. The evening had a fitting climax when about 300 were at the combined C-Club - Waterville Alumni social hour at the Hotel Elmwood. It was by far the largest turnout ever, and I can honestly say the most enthusiastic. It was truly wonderful to see so many of you there so enthusiastic about Colby athletics, and believe me, we hope this grows bigger and bigger each year.

WINTER SPORTS

Since the conclusion of the best football season we have had in four years, (I assume all of you are completely up-to-date on it through Bob Clifford's letters) both the hockey and basketball Varsity and Freshmen squads have been hard at work. There certainly is optimism on campus regarding both sports and both seem to have well-stocked Freshman teams. On the basketball team there are such men as John Kelly of Bar Harbor, Charles Swenson of West New York, N.J., Bob Burke of Brockton, Mass., Bernard Wagner of Livermore Falls, Dave Berquist of Winchester, Mass., Cal Pingree of Georgetown, Mass., and Joe Gibbons of Port Washington, N.Y. On the Freshman hockey team there are Rick Johnson of Dover, N.H., Sandy Boardman of Auburndale, Mass., John Maguire of Lorneville, St. John, New Brunswick, Sandy Arens of Wellesley Hills, Mass., Murray Daley of Pembroke, Ontario, Moe Paradis of Lewiston, Paul Beck of Indian Orchard, Mass., Ned Platner of Hingham, Mass., and Goalie Dave Seddon of Oradell, N.J.

As for the varsities - hockey is opening this weekend with Hamilton and Dartmouth. Coach Kelley is optimistic his team will do at least as well as they did last year, which was one of the finest years in hockey for a long time. You all have schedules from our previous Newsletter so that you can follow the season throughout the year. As for basketball, we have already lost our first League game to Bates which is the first time we have lost our first League game since 1950-51 season. However, we do feel that eventually our new men which include Ed Burke of Brockton, Mass., Norm Gigon of Hackensack, N.J., Ed Marchetti of Bath, Leon Nelson of New Haven, Conn., and Tony Zash of Englewood, N.J. will join Cap't. Cudmore (Brockton, Mass.) along with Dick Campbell of Greenfield, Mass., and John Edes of Ellsworth (Seniors), along with Juniors Lloyd Cohen of Fairview, N.J., Tony Ruvo of Bloomfield, N.J., and Bob Kopchains of Union City, N.J. to give us a better balanced team. This winter there will be some marvelous games played by our teams and, of course, we hope our success will continue just as we know you hope so.

SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS This is a reminder to you that four men are getting financial aid from the C-Club this year, including football players Mike Farren, Bob Auriemma, and Bob Sargent and basketball player Dick Campbell. These men could not continue at Colby unless they had this extra assistance and so we would point out again how much valuable work your C-Club dues are doing right now. The future is rosy, and I do hope that each of you, in case you have not already given, will send in your $5.00 dues by processing the form at the end of this letter. It will not only be appreciated, but you can well see it will be put to good use to materially assist with our program.

We have very great initiative, right now, so let us keep that momentum and let us see if we can develop the very best athletic program for your Alma Mater which all of us know to be one of the finest in the country.

Colby Is Changing Institution: Strider

Colby College and its plans for the future were discussed Monday noon at the Waterville Rotary Club session by the President-elect, Dean Robert E. L. Strider.

The role that Colby plans to play in the future, on Mayflower Hill and in the community, were explained by Dean Strider, who last October was named to succeed President J. Seelye Bixler in June.

"WE ARE A GROWING and a changing institution," he said. "And a college in a vital and dynamic institution which must change with the times," he added.

He explained the college curriculum, and what changes must be made as time progresses to keep up with the ever-changing times. He explained that a step in that direction was instituted last year with the addition of Russian as a foreign language. He discussed possible expansion of the sciences.

In line with the expansion of the language department, Dean Strider stated: "We can not be linguistically illiterate and compete with the powers of the world."

He explained that in the near future plans for a course in astronomy would be realized and that the college had the hope that someday there would be an observatory on Mayflower Hill.

He discussed faculty plans and explained that the college would continue to maintain quality in its faculty. At present, there are 42 of the 105 members of the faculty who hold Ph.D degrees.

He explained the salary schedule at the college and expressed the desire to continue to raise the schedule to keep qualified faculty members here.

He discussed students and explained that as time progresses, the college will become more selective. He said the school did not plan to seek just geniuses, "there will always be room for better than average students at Colby."

"WE WANT TO HAVE more really good students to set the pace," he added. The college desires more foreign students and more students from Maine towns and cities, he said.

He did say that Colby athletic teams were coached by well qualified men, but that Colby "will not introduce a system of athletic scholarships to bolster our teams."

Among the things that may take place at Colby in the future may be more building, such things as an infirmary, a building for the spa and book shop, a new science building, a new gymnasium and a community and college auditorium which could seat 2,000 persons.

Colby present enrollment is slightly more than 1,100. He said that in the future, it would probably increase to 1,500.

I am very thrilled to be accepted to Colby College and will try to do my best to make myself at home in this fine school and the warm environment that I found while I was visiting the college earlier this spring. I will now close but before I do, I would like to say again I hope that I will be able to make myself worthy of such an opportunity which has been, pardon the slang, laid at my doorstep and only need being carried out by me.

Dear Henry,

It was swell talking to you again and I am glad that I had an opportunity to discuss our Mayflower Associates, Inc. project with you. However, I am still hot on that subject and I want to give you a little more information.

At the present time, our organization is helping nineteen boys to matriculate at Colby College. I think this is a terrific job for our first year as it cost $1,150. to send a boy to Colby College (including room and board). Naturally, we need as much money as we can get, and we need it before the first of the year so that we can meet all our obligations.

During our conversation, you promised that you would help. As an interesting sidelight to you, our co-captains for the coming year are both N. H. boys; so your state is well represented. Also we have applications on file from N. H. boys for the coming year. However, I would appreciate your letting us know about any real good boys (athletes) that you know around your vicinity. We shall contact them and arrange to have them down for an interview.

As for your pledge, I expect anything from $500. and up. Also try to contact some of your friends of good circumstances to join this worthy organization.

Thanks and best regards

Yours truly,

COLBY COLLEGE

WATERVILLE, MAINE

OFFICE OF
THE PRESIDENT

March 5, 1965

Messrs. Ludy and Pacy Levine
33½ Ticonic Street
Waterville, Maine

Dear Ludy and Pacy,

It is a great pleasure to tell you that the first scholarship award from the Ludy and Pacy Levine Athletic Scholarship has been made to Joseph Michael Jabar, a freshman, whose home, as you know, is 7 Bartlett Street, Waterville.

I have no doubt that you are thoroughly familiar with the athletic prowess of the famed Jabar Brothers, Tony '54, Norm, Johnny, Herb and Paul, all '52. Their younger brother Joe seems to be following in his brothers' footsteps. Joe has played freshman football and basketball.

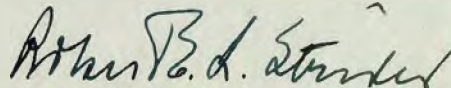

He is a conscientious, average student who seems to be adjusting well. He came to us very well recommended.

Joe seems to be just the type of boy who deserves assistance in obtaining a college education, and I hope that you are pleased with our selection.

I do want to thank you ever so much for having established this fine scholarship which will aid worthy athletes for years to come.

All of us on Mayflower Hill send very best wishes.

Cordially,

Robert E. L. Strider
President

Dear Lee:

It is with much nostalgic regret that we are writing this letter to you. When we think back and try to recollect facts about our growing Colby family of friends, we think of the fall of 1946. It was at this time that we first met you.

Since 1946, we have had many, many occasions to meet you. Sometimes as a critical (but loyal and happy) Colby coach, sometimes as an interested citizen for community affairs, sometimes as a customer and always as a friend. We think back over the years that we have known you and over the years that you have given so much to Colby and we sometimes wonder if we will ever have another Lee Williams. Without knowing the answer, at least we can be sure that your thoughts and interest will never stray far from Waterville and Colby.

We feel that it is only fitting and proper that you should know that we and all your friends wish you well. We shall miss your "court-room antics" but we shall never forget them. We are happy and proud of the fame that you have brought to Waterville and to Colby, and we sincerely hope that success will always be with you in whatever endeavor you follow.

Best of luck from your friends,

Sincerely yours,

Ludy Levine

Dear Bill:-

Good byes are always difficult to write or to say and this one is even more so for us. We have known you for so long, and have been associated with you for so long, that to us you are part of our family.

When we reminisce about the so called "good old days", your history always comes to our mind. It has always been rewarding to us to think that our family was, in a way responsible for your coming to Colby. Our uncle "Dutch Levine", who played football for Colby and then for Yale recommended Colby to a young athlete from Whitman, Massachusetts. Uncle "Dutch" foresaw an excellent athletic career for this young man and hoped he would go to Colby. We are justifiably proud that we can say that our family helped to have "Bill Millet" come to Colby, and then go on to become a part of Colby and then go on even more, in our minds, to become "Mr. Colby."

You have done more than any man of whom we can think to keep Colby alumni interested and excited about Colby of yesterday, today and tomorrow. We sincerely hope now that you will be just a "plain citizen", that you will continue to give some of your time and talents to Colby. It still seems to us that only "Bill" can get certain things done, and that only "Bill" can approach certain persons. Even though your final years at Colby were concerned with the alumni office, your heart was always warm toward Colby athletic interests.

We shall cherish fond memories of "coaching" all the teams at all events with you. We shall still look forward to sitting with you and correcting all the errors that are made on the playing field. We shall always associate the names of Colby and "Bill" Millet as one and we hope that this association will always continue. It seems that we could go on forever extolling your merits but we shall stop here.

Bill, we wish you the best.

Sincerely,

COLBY COLLEGE

Hockey: A Colby-Waterville Tradition

Tonight is history. The dream of an artificial ice rink at Colby College has been realized and countless individuals, at the college and in the community, will share the benefits.

Colby and Waterville have a tradition of ice sports. "Old-timers" will recall the great games by Notre Dame; the thrills provided by Waterville High; the fine performances and enthusiasm of the Waterville Skating Club; and the ice trickery of some of Colby's hockey greats.

Colby's early hockey teams prior to 1920 started with an outdoor natural ice rink on the old Colby College campus bordering on the Kennebec River behind Roberts Hall. In 1920 enthusiastic students organized Colby's first hockey team for intercollegiate competition with simple facilities and without the services of a full time coach. Here was laid the foundation for hockey in Colby's intercollegiate athletic program. By 1928 the site of the old outdoor rink had to be abandoned because the spacious indoor field house (now the Community Building) was to be built in this area. The sport was continued for several years at Waterville's South End Arena and then moved to a college-owned rink located behind the women's dormitory, Foss Hall.

At last in 1935 an unused area behind the old college infirmary, bordering on Front Street, was granted by the college for an outdoor rink. A barn behind the infirmary and the DKE house on College Avenue served as dressing rooms, storage spaces and headquarters for hockey players and spectators. A working agreement was set up for maintenance along with public skating. Snow removal, lighting facilities, ice construction and semi-shelters provided an outdoor natural ice surface which kept hockey alive for many years. In time, however, problems arose with nearby property owners complaining of surface water and basement flooding from thaws and warm weather.

Immediately following World War II, the South End Arena was again utilized for intercollegiate hockey but the many handicaps of travelling 3.2 miles from campus stimulated renewed determination to provide facilities on the new Mayflower Hill campus. In the fall of 1948 the college contracted to build the necessary board walls for an outdoor rink which was placed on a field adjoining the present fieldhouse. In 1950 the college took another step in the effort to give hockey a better facility by providing a splendid lighting coverage. Six fifty-foot poles were set up with six 500 watt flood lights on each pole.

Unfortunately, field space, boards, suitable lights, proximity to the campus, playing equipment and labor did not prove to be the solution of placing hockey on a sound seasonal basis as compared to other sports in the intercollegiate athletic program of the college. Natural ice has always been the basic problem because a natural ice surface requires frozen ground, a base of snow or slush and continuous night flooding over a period of at least one week at low temperatures, uninterrupted by rises in temperature spells. Building natural ice surfaces for hockey is not an easy task, and experienced or suitable labor to do this job is seldom available.

Now the struggle is over. Through the generosity of alumni, townspeople and other friends, Colby has an artificial ice rink which will stand side by side with the finest. Tonight begins a new era in local ice sports and particularly, of course, in hockey, both among the youngsters in the community and at the collegiate level.

The athletic annals of Colby boasts many outstanding names in intercollegiate hockey: Millett, Drummond, Carlson, Scott, Wilson, Ross, Violette, Sheehan, Lemieux, Walker, Magee, Wallace, Fortin, Butcher, and Laliberte—to name a few. In 1936 Colby was represented on the U.S. Olympic team by Elbridge Ross, '35. Many graduates have had the honor of being selected on the all-New England Intercollegiate hockey teams.

This program pays tribute to the captains and coaches who have guided the sport at Colby and who have fought for its survival.

Dear Rudy:

Just a note to say how happy we are that your long dedication to Colby is again being recognized.

You're the world's greatest "pepper uper". And we are sure you have more than earned the honor of this "Colby Night Endowment Fund" ceremony.

It's great to see a "21 er" on the program, especially you. We are proud to be your classmate.

All Best Wishes for many happy, prosperous years ahead. Hope to see you June '76 for our 55th. Again your sincere friends, Tom & A. Bell

Can't think of a better time, than on this Special Occasion,
To wish you the very best and send my congratulations.

Mr. Ludy Levine,

Dear Ludy;

It's been a long time since 1917, when I graduated from Colby, and left Waterville. However, my mind registers you very clearly.
It would be a pleasure to see you again.

I always follow the football results in our papers during the season. Naturally, I get a great deal of satisfaction when Colby wins-- and when they lose--I realize that the team did the best possible. Much thought and effort always is necessary to put a team into play-- and expenses are cropping almost every minute.
They have to be paid. Money expended in promoting good-will and making possible a visit to Colby should be of great value in influencing desirable students to come to Colby.

I am enclosing a check for $15.00 (fifteen Dollars) payable to Colby College for help in defraying the travel fund.

Best wishes and kindest regards to you and for Colby.

Sincerely,

John H. Everett '1917.

Dear Ludy and Pacy,

It is my guess that the office of Levine's Clothing Store is already overflowing with mementoes of Colby Night '69.

However, I am taking the liberty of adding to that collection by enclosing this picture with the thought that it captures some of the excitement and gratitude which all of us felt.

My best,

Sincerely,

Dear Ludy and Pacy:

You will be interested to hear of this year's recipient of the Ludy and Pacy Levine Scholarship. It is a pleasure to tell you about James Louis Theriault, Class of '76 who lives in Winslow.

James graduated from Winslow High School in 1971 and attended Bridgton Academy as a post-graduate student in 1971-72. He was an honor roll student two years at Winslow High and also his year at Bridgton. He received the History Award in both junior and senior years and the Chemistry Award in his junior year at Winslow High.

Jim was Vice President of his class for two years; was a member of the Student Council three years; was chosen for Boys State where he served on the Governor's Executive Council; and was a member of the W-Club for three years.

He played football (half-back - linebacker) four years and was co-captain and top defensive ball player. He received a W-Club Award for Football. Three years he played outfield in baseball. He also participated in wrestling. Apart from these activities he enjoys fishing, hunting and water skiing.

Employment during the summer included Dexter's Drug Store, Silent Woman Restaurant and the Arsenault Tire Company.

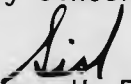

His guidance counselor states that James is the type of individual who will do more than his best to achieve success academically. He is a fine boy in every respect and has been an excellent school citizen... courteous, mannerly and cooperative. Altogether, we are happy to have him here at Colby.

In sending this report to you I am pleased to add the latest figures on the Pacy and Ludy Levine Scholarship Fund. On June 30th, Colby added to the endowment $817.63 which represented the fund's share of the capital gains realized during the fiscal year by the investment of Colby's overall endowment portfolio. This brings the endowment principal to $8,879.01.

Colby will continue to share gains with the Ludy and Pacy Levine Scholarship Fund. It is a fund in which we take great pride.

With very best wishes.

Very sincerely,

Gentlemen:

A few days ago I was informed by Colby College that I was to receive the Ludy and Pacy Levine Scholarship. Words cannot express my gratitude to you both for your extreme generosity. To say the least, the money was sorely needed since my parents and I are working very hard to put me through college.

I realize that both of you gentlemen have long been contributing to Colby and admire your unselfish giving to the College. I will try my utmost to be a success at Colby this coming year. Again I want to thank you both for your generosity.

Sincerely,

Dear Ludy and Pacy:

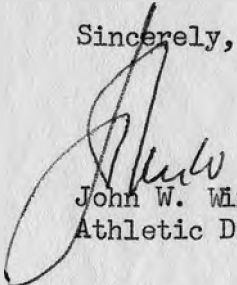

I know I have thanked you many times before for your kindnesses and loyalties to Colby and to our Athletic Department. I want you to know, however, how much it meant to us last night to have the both of you pledge $250 each to our recruiting program through Frank. I am sure it was the spark that was needed for the occasion.

You will be interested to know that others made commitments to Frank following the meeting so I honestly feel we are off to a good start.

Thanks again. Every best wish to you, Ludy. I hope you will have a speedy recovery. Our prayers will be with you.

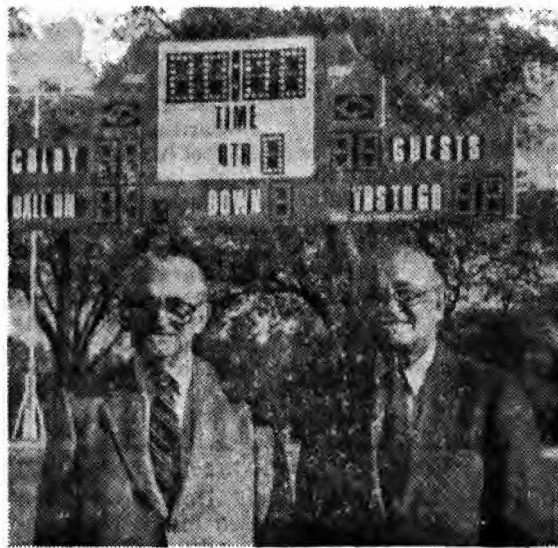

Once again, my sincere thanks to you both.

WATERVILLE — A new digital scoreboard has been generously donated to Colby College by alumni Ludy '21 and Pacy '27 Levine of Waterville. The dedication of the 10 by 30-foot blue and white structure occurred at halftime of the football game Saturday, Oct. 9, between Colby and Union College.

Local merchants, the Levine brothers have a long history of dedicated and unyielding commitment to Colby, with particular attention to its athletics programs.

Ludy received his Colby sports letter in 1957 and Pacy, in 1963. They were both named "C" Club Men-of-the-Year in 1969, when alumni paid tribute to their devoted service by dedicating the 1969 Homecoming Weekend to them.

A member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Ludy served the Colby Alumni Council and the Waterville Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations. He is treasurer of the 91-year-old family clothing business, William Levine and Sons. A Colby Brick was awarded to him for dedication to Colby.

Pacy accepted his Brick award in 1978. He is a member of the Tau Delta fraternity and was the 1963 Man-of-the-Year of the college.

Graduates of Waterville High School, the brothers formed the "Ludy and Pacy Levine Athletic Scholarship" for worthy area men planning to enter Colby.

The most recent of many gifts to the college, the scoreboard bears their names in recognition of their continued support. Standing in the east end zone of Seaverns Field, the facility features ball-location and ball-possession information.

By EARL H. SMITH

A highly - successful Alumni Weekend concluded at Colby College Sunday when several were honored at the traditional awards ceremony.

Receiving Colby bricks, miniatures of those used in the construction of the college's Mayflower Hill campus, were Lewis "Ludy" Levine of Waterville; Theodore Hodgkins of Wilton; Edith Emery of Haverhill, Mass.; Lester Weeks of Boothbay Harbor; L. Russell Blanchard of Worcester, Mass.; and Roderick and Margaret Farnham of Bangor.

The bricks are given to alumni "for distinguished service to the college."

Gavels were also presented to those who preside over national, regional, or state organizations. Recipients were Cyril M. Joly, Jr., class of 1948, of Waterville, chairman of the Maine Republican State Committee; Samson Fisher, M. D., 1934, Waterville, president of the Maine Thoracic Society; Joseph B. Campbell, 1929, Augusta, president of the Maine State Senate; M. Donald Gardner, 1940, Portland, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Maine; Mrs. John H. Brown, Jr., 1937, Fairfield, Conn., national president of the Needlework Guild of America, Inc.; Paul G. Poulin, 1951, Augusta, president of the New England Municipal Officers Association; and Alanson Curtis, 1931, Houston, Tex., chairman of the board of directors of the Asphalt Institute.

Levine, best known as "Ludy" by scores of Colby friends, was told that "the life of the college has been enriched by your close association and constant support, even beyond the sphere of athletics which you so deeply enjoy ... you and Pacy are Colby legends in your own time and nothing pleases your college more than to present you with its highest alumni award, the Colby brick."

THE TUFTS GAME.

Crippled by the loss of Capt. Fraser, the Colby pigskin chasers were defeated by the fast and heavy Tufts team by a 40 to 14 score, at Medford, Mass., last Saturday afternoon. The game was strongly characterized by rough playing and the frequent use of the forward pass. The score does not justly tell the story of the game, however, for it was a hard fought battle throughout; and it was only through the successful manipulation of the forward pass that Tufts was able to roll up such a large margin, for Colby's line held like a stone wall.

From the first, Colby was dazzled by the brilliancy of her opponent's playing. The open formations that Tufts used were something new, and by them Tufts was able to spring some passes that Colby couldn't touch. In one or two instances, the Colby backs were cleverly drawn in and Tufts dropped some long passes over their heads.

Parks started the scoring for the enemy by a touchdown, and followed it up with a goal.

Not until the second period did the Blue and Gray get together as a real fighting unit. Then Colby took the ball away from Tufts on her twenty yard line, and rushed it down the field, Cawley taking the ball over the line on a spectacular plunge through center. In the following period, Colby again scored, Cawley again carrying the ball over.

COLBY CROSSES HARVARD GOAL LINE.

With many new men in the line-up, Colby's 1915 football eleven fulfilled the wildest hopes of her loyal supporters by scoring a touchdown against Harvard at Cambridge, Saturday. A one-sided defeat for the Maine college was expected, and Harvard's total of 39 points did not detract one bit from the glory of crossing the Crimson goal line. In fact, the feat of the little Blue and Gray team will go down in football history as an achievement equal to a defeat of Harvard by an aggregation of her own calibre.

The game was a fast and exciting exhibition. Coach Fuller's charges, although unable to stop the terrific line plunges of the Crimson machine, nevertheless fought stubbornly and refused to "lie down" at any stage of the game. The little visiting team also surprised and mystified her opponents by the cleverness and unexpectedness of her offence. The forward pass was repeatedly "sprung" at the most unlooked for occasions and served to keep the sons of Harvard wide awake every moment. This form of attack netted several good gains, but generally failed through lack of practice.

Harvard won the game in the first two periods on successive line plunges by Capt. Mahan and his heavy backs, Cawley being the only man who could halt their terrific onslaughts. "Eddie's" brilliant work in the department of "last defense" was, as last year, a revelation to his many admirers.

It was in truth a genuine demonstration of Colby's wonderful fighting spirit—the spirit that won the two great championships last year—which enabled the Blue and Gray to rally in the final period and score a touchdown. Special credit is due the Colby aggregation for the splendid spirit which enabled it to rise up against Harvard's fresh reserves and, by straight line plunges, to carry the ball across the coveted line.

With the pigskin on the Crimson 40-yard line, Cawley dropped back for a kick and then surprised his opponents by shooting a forward pass to Bourne, who netted 15 yards. Then, Cawley and Schuster crumbled the Harvard defense with straight line plunges and "Dutch" finally carried the ball over the line.

The game developed many interesting facts about this year's eleven, chief of which is that we have a star back-field. Not only this, but there is also promise of a formidable line before the championship series begins. There is, however, a lot of new material; and the coming game with the dangerous New Hampshire State team, next Saturday, will give an even better line on the varsity prospect. Summary:

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK GOOD.

The prospects for another banner year for the Colby football eleven are as bright as ever. Confronted with the loss of seven veterans, the remaining men of last year's team have turned out with a vim that is bound to accomplish results. Last year's entire line, practically, is missing, and the mighty "Ginger," whose good work was one of the factors that brought the gonfalon to Colby, was also graduated. Among the veterans that remain are: Captain Stanwood, Cawley, Schuster, Kolseth, Leseur, Joyce, Perry, Fraser, Taft, B. Crossman, and Burton. Other men who give promise of strengthening the team are: O'Brien, Friedman, Silverstein, Newman, Erbb, Heath, Rogers, Wood, I. Perry, Dow, Bourne, Carey, Hendricks, and Gallier.

From thirty to thirty-five men are on the field daily, and are rapidly rounding into shape under the able guidance of Coach Fuller. The Harvard game, although a defeat, was, in a measure, satisfactory, considering that the Crimson team was scored on, and the fact that the practice of our team has been limited. The dopesters may consider the fact significant that, while the Blue and Gray was able to place the pigskin behind the goal-posts of the Harvard team, the University of Maine was whitewashed by Yale.

Colby Drowns New Hampshire State College, 18 to 0.

Composed Chiefly of New Men, the Blue and Gray Team Shows Remarkable Strength.

Despite a drizzling uncomfortable rain, Colby wiped up Alumni Field with New Hampshire State, 18 to 0, Saturday. From a Colby standpoint, the game left nothing to be desired, under the prevailing conditions. The Blue and Gray smashed big holes in the opposing lines at times and, incidently, showed a lot of real football by scoring three times against a team of New Hampshire State calibre.

Many supporters of the Colby eleven were disappointed, however, because they were unable to get a definite idea of the strength of the local machine. The wretched condition of the field gave opportunity for nothing but old-fashioned "pile up" football. End runs were out of the question, and the heavy, slippery ball made the forward pass well nigh impossible. Thus, the inauspicious mood of old Jupe Pluvius was the cause of much disappointment to those who had hoped to get a line on Colby's real strength for the coming championship series.

New Hampshire State lived up to her reputation of having a much improved team from that of last year, as the score 18 to 0, against 61 to 0, would seem to indicate. Her line was practically invincible at times, especially toward the end of the game; and, although the visitors did not show nearly as much class as the home "bunch," they, nevertheless, made a relatively good showing. The tall, slim fullback of the State College made a particularly favorable impression by his uncanny skill in running back punts.

Much of the success of New Hampshire may, however, be attributed to the fact that she was at all times playing the conservative, defensive game, a decidedly big advantage with playing conditions as they were. It was easy for the visitors to show up well with Colby pressing an aggressive attack on a slippery field. Moreover, "Chick" Fraser was much bothered by the meagre array of available plays which the weather conditions had left him in place of his unusually large assortment.

Colby scored a touchdown in each of the first three periods. New Hampshire State kicked off for a starter, and E. Perry placed the ball on her 30-yard line. Then the Blue and Gray waiked right up the field on successive line bucks by Cawley, Taft, and Hendricks, "Eddie" finally placing the oval on the right side of the goal line in five minutes of play. The remainder of the period was spent in vain onslaughts by both teams in mid-field.

Early in the second period, Colby worked the only really successful forward pass of the game. Cawley tossed the pigskin 30 yards into E. Perry's waiting arms, and the little end ran 30 yards more before a speedy New Hampshire back pulled him down on the 10-yard line. Then, in three plays, "Chick" Fraser scored the second touchdown. Again, many minutes were lost in vain line-bucks and exchanging of punts by both teams. No long gains were made by either side.

Colby's third touchdown was the result of a "fluke." New Hampshire State had the ball on her own 15-yard line and tried to punt, but Captain Stanwood blocked the kick and carried the ball over the line without opposition. After this, both teams introduced numerous substitutes, who slowed up the play, and neither side was able to make decided gains.

FRESHMEN OUTPLAY THE "SOPHS" IN BASEBALL, BUT FAIL TO COME ACROSS SO SUCCESSFULLY WITH THE GRAPES.

While Colby's warriors of the gridiron were battling at Amherst, Saturday afternoon, the freshmen and sophomores were disporting themselves on Alumni Field in their annual baseball game. The contest was a one-sided affair from start to finish, the 1919 men winning to the tune of 8 to 1.

Matthews twirled for the "sophs" and, while not up to last spring's form, he deserved much better support in the field than his team-mates were able to give. "Chet" Ashworth, the former Coburn catcher played a steady consistent game for the freshman team, and gave evidences of being a prospective varsity man. Driscoll, the 1919 short-stop, also showed great form by his heavy hitting and spectacular fielding.

The freshmen seemed to have a variety of pitchers, a new one appearing on the mound every two or three innings. Shirley proved to be a batting pitcher, his two-bagger being one of the longest hits of the game.

THE GRAPE RUSH

The "grape rush" did not result so successfully for the freshmen. Upon observing the approach of an auto truck, in the third inning of the game, the "sophs" started the rush for the grape-laden machine. While some closed the gate to Alumni Field, others gave chase to the truck. The driver, evidently becoming confused by seeing the "mob" descend upon him, turned the machine around and encircled the tennis court a few times and then made for the closed gate at full speed. By this time, however, there were almost as many sophomores as freshmen aboard the truck, and grapes were flying in all directions.

It happened that a few of the juniors secured some of the forbidden fruit, but the greater part fell into the hands of the blood-thirsty "sophs," or was crushed on the ground. One freshman having got possession of a full basket of the luscious "Delawares," was going to enjoy a little party by himself, but he changed his mind when about fifty representatives of the three upper classes jumped upon him and relieved him of a part of his "prize." There were plenty of grapes and everybody seemed happy after the "rush." So, perhaps, we should not, after all, characterize the freshman project as an utter failure.

COLBY WANTS DUAL CROSS-COUNTRY RUN.

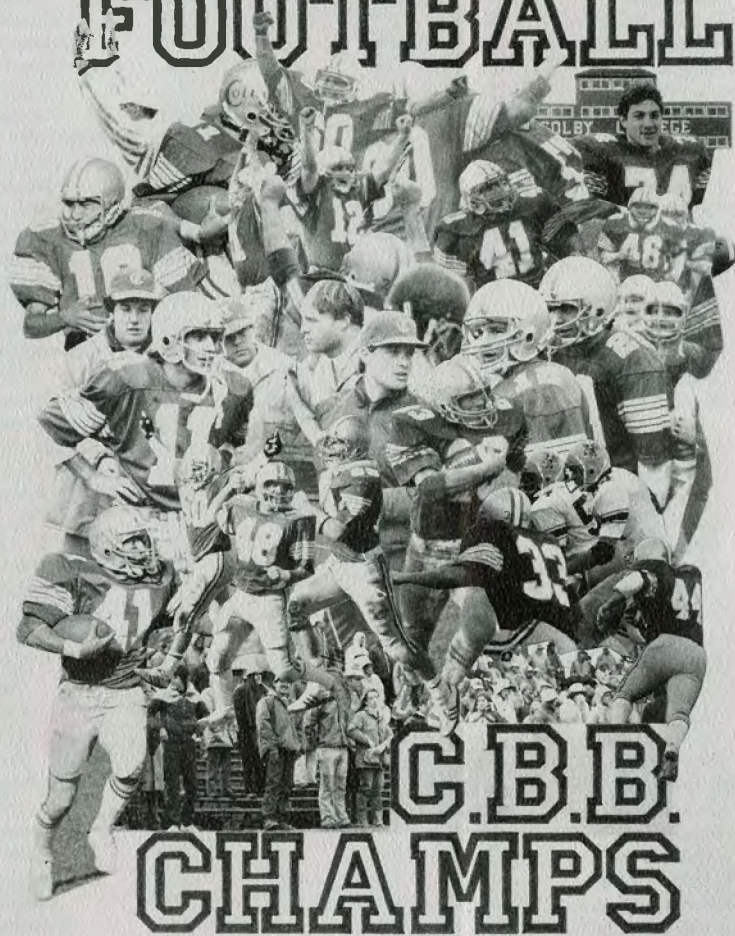

Manager Little of the track department announces that plans are on foot to arrange a dual cross-country run with one of the other Maine colleges.

The cross-country schedule which appeared in last week's ECHO was not official, it being merely a tentative list of fall track dates which our sporting writer obtained from unauthentic sources.

A four months old black bear cub named "Bananas" is the mascot for the University of Maine football team, this fall.
