BANGOR, ME., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1936

Paul McKeon and Abe BANGOR PROMÓTER PLANS MITT SHOW

Maine Welterweights Each Have Victory Over Other in Six Round Tussles; McKeon Amateur Champion

In spite of the fact Paul Martin, local producer of fistic entertainment, has suffered a financial loss, in everyone of his presentations during the past months, it is now rumored along the local pugilistic front he is planning another.

According to reports promoter of Martin and his matchmaker, Duncana MacDonald, will match Paul . McKeon, winner of the State amatour welterweight championship with Abe Natherson, little Jewish ring ace who originally hailed from Portland.

CLASSY PERFORMERS

The hard punching McKeon, entered by the Greenville CCC camp in the News Amateur Tournament was a sensation. Since winning the Simon Pure diadem at that poundage, McKeon has turned professional to the extent of fighting Natherson in two bitter contests staged at Bar Harbor recently.

Natherson's fighting monikers are Abe Aitel and Jimmy Pearl. In several appearances here a few years ago he proved a sensation. In his fast fight on local boards he completely surprised the local boxing whirl when he handed Pat Cormicr of Old Town, then at his peak, a terrific shellacking for three rounds, flooring him twice and then lost on a technical knockout when a wild right hand smash from the Old Towner struck in such a way that it broke the bone in Abe's right forerm.

BROKE HIS ARM

The broken arm put the Jewish fash out of circulation for more than a year. He decided to hang up the gloves forever but the old urge got him and now he's back and, as the report comes, is going better than ever.

He's a slim, blonde Jewish kid with pink checks and gold rimmed pectacles. An inoffensive lookin, i chap, but once inside ropes he's a demon. He is fast, can box beautifully, punch with terrific force with either hand, and his every move radiates class.

McNron, hasky Trich Sailler is a deadly left hook puncher, is fast and aggressive. Reports from the outskirts of the Maine fistle realm are to the effect that Pearl heat Paul in the first encounter and Paul reversed the tables in a return meeting.

LONGER DISTANCE

Both times the winning margin was closer than the next second. The bouls were six rounders. Not long enough to decide which of these two unusually classy boy. is the better man with the upholstered mittens.

It is rumored, that if successful in getting the pair to clash in a third and rubber duel, promoter Martin will send them over the cight, or ten round route in an effort to fud the best man of the two and use him sgainst worthy opponents in future shows here.