Center Youth Announces First Contributions to Fine Jewish Youth Library

Now that the Center Youth Lounge is fully equipped with adequate furnishings and decorations, the young people are preparing to introduce a fine Jewish cultural atmosphere. In keeping with the expressed hope of the young people themselves, the room is already being used for study and reading purposes.

The Magazine and Book Committee, under the chairmanship of Phyllis Israelson, has already ordered the best Anglo-Jewish newspapers and magazines of interest to high school boys and girls, which will be available at all times on the new magazine rack.

The committee has made a significant decision, and will fill the now-empty book-shelves with publications of special interest to Jewish high school youth. A fine beginning was made possible by two contributions received from friends this past week, and the "Bulletin" is happy to publish the list of books their contributions have made possible.

From Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stein and Family, $10.00 for the following:

The Holy Scriptures	Jewish Publication Society of America
The Making of the Modern Jew	Rabbi Milton Steinberg
Jewish Life In Our Times	Dr. Judah Pilch
The Sabbath Book	Rabbi Samuel M. Segal

and Mrs. Melville Stein and Daughter, Ilene Loraine, $10.00:

The Encyclopedia of Jewish Knowledge	Jacob De Haas
The Jew Faces a New World	Robert Gordis
Modern Jewish Problems	Roland Gittlesohn

Portland's Jewish Youth expresses its thanks to these friends who have given a fine start to such a great project. It is to be hoped that soon the book shelves will be filled with Jewish books which will add to our youth's understanding and appreciation of the rich culture of Judaism, past and present. From these books, Jewish Youth will get the knowledge and spiritual strength so necessary, if they are to prepare themselves to be Jewish leaders of tomorrow.

Hayim Greenberg To Be Heard At Center On Wednesday, Feb. 7

World Renowned Zionist Leader Famous For Brilliant Oratory And Powerful Pen

On Wednesday, February 7, Hayim Greenberg, one of the most potent and forceful figures in contemporary Zionism, will make his appearance at the Center under the sponsorship of the Portland Zionist Council. Now, while the "Big Three" sits in council and the fate of political Zionism stands at the cross-roads, it will be well for all thoughtful Portland Jews to come and listen to a man who for four decades has molded and prodded Zionist opinion with tongue and pen. Since 1934 the editor of the "Jewish Frontier," organ of the Paole Zion, Mr. Greenberg has found time to serve as co-chairman of the Post-War Commission of the American Jewish Conference, the Zionist Action Committee and the American Zionist Emergency Council.

Rabbi Aaron Greenbaum will deliver the invocation preceding the address by Hayim Greenberg.

As a special feature of the program, the Paole Zion Organization will present to the Jewish Community Center a beautiful silk Zionist flag. This will be accepted for the Center by president Edward J. Berman.

David I. Rubinoff is general chairman and Saul G. Chason will serve as chairman of the evening. The public is invited to attend.

Center Dancing School Invites All To Register For Second Term Sunday

Please, parents—don't forget February 4th is registration day for the second term of dancing school. This includes all old and new registrants. You do not have to come yourself, just send fifty cents with your child. Without this fee your child will not be registered. We must be strict about this and cannot have late comers as it breaks up classes.

Preparations are being made now for the spring festival. Please don't make it necessary for me to refuse when you decide a week too late to register. This is the Sunday to do it. Registration before each class: 2:15—age 4-5; 3:15—age 3-6; 4:15—age 8-12. All children previously registered must register again for the new season.

Center Women's Club To Give Servicemen's Supper Sunday

Mrs. Maurice Matson and Mrs. Barnett I. Shur are co-chairmen of the servicemen's supper to be served by the Center Women's Club in conjunction with the USO-JWB Army and Navy Committee, Sunday evening at the Center. Their committee includes Mesdames Ralph Lamport, Carl P. Zolov, William Perlin, David Novick, Julius Elovitch, Maurice Davis, Harold P. Nelson, Herbert Stern, Louis Gordon, Max Cooper, Norman I. Godfrey and Ralph Heifetz.

The Executive Board will meet at 2:00 P. M., Wednesday, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Samuel Pinansky of Bolton Street.

Men's Club Now Offers "Special Foods"

The Center Men's Club is happy to announce that by special arrangement with Mrs. Bessie Edison, our coöperative cateress, men on "special diets" will now be served food courses in keeping with the medical restrictions. So all you fellows who can't take it "rich," but like "plain cooked," will get yours from now on.

JEW IN AMERICA'S ARMED FORCES

By DR. SAMUEL C. KOHS

(The following article of especial interest to Portland Jewry is a summary of a study on Jews in the armed forces to be published in "Yivo Bleter," journal of Yivo, Yiddish Scientific Institute, and also to be issued in a separate booklet. Dr. Kohs is director of the Bureau of War Records of the National Jewish Welfare Board, and conducted our local survey.—THE EDITOR.)

There is no unanimity of opinion among the Jewish leaders of this country on the subject of gathering facts about Jews, dealing with any phase other than just their religious affiliations. There are some who question the desirability of doing that. It is believed, however, that the preponderance of Jewish opinion supports the securing of as much information about ourselves as possible in order to provide a basis for our own understanding of ourselves, and for planning the conduct of our communal affairs on a scientific and effective basis. More specifically, the major reasons for making a separate count of Jews in the armed services, may be stated as follows:

a. Minority groups are always vulnerable to attack. Such a group owes it to itself and to the well-being of the country as a whole, to accumulate accurate information by means of which to controvert baseless rumors and prejudiced attacks.

b. To ask questions about any minority group is the right of every citizen of this country.

c. The gathering of information about Jews in the armed forces should take into account our own group needs and our own group purposes.

There are numerous practical reasons for accumulating this record. A substantial number of our men and women in the armed forces will be returning to their homes when this war is over physically or mentally injured. When this holocaust is over, Government agencies estimate the 10% of those in our armed forces will require some remedial attention to their acquired physical and mental handicaps.

Our Bureau's Program

The Bureau of War Records carries the responsibility of developing uniform procedures for the local gathering of data on Jewish men and women in the armed forces and stimulating and directing this program throughout the United States.

Besides stimulating local initiative in the interests of coordination and time-saving, the Bureau has also formulated a pattern and program for the organization of state and regional units for war records keeping. At the present time, approximately 500 Jewish communities throughout the United States have active committees at work on the compilation of war records of Jewish men and women in the armed forces. In operation, or about to be launched, are twenty-one state and regional organizations.

What Facts Have We Now?

The reader should be cautioned that all the figures are tentative, representing only a partial achievement, and should be regarded only as an interim report indicating in embryo, some of the material which will become available later in more extended and more ample form. No generalization should be made based upon these figures covering facts either for an entire group, for specific Jewish communities throughout the country, or for the Jews of this country as a whole. Only when all the evidence is in will such generalizations be possible. However, some of our studies do present some interesting data which may, with the cautions indicated, be reported now.

Community Studies

In order to determine the ratio of Jewish men in our armed forces in comparison with eligible men for service from the community as a whole, studies have been completed in four communities as follows: Trenton, N. J.—August, 1942; Lynn, Mass.—July, 1943; Portland, Me.—November, 1943, and Stamford, Conn.—November, 1943. The results of these four studies are presented in the following table:

	Trenton, N. J.	Lynn, Mass.	Portland, Me.	Stamford, Conn.
Jews in the total population	6.1%	7.1%	3.5%	5.4%
Jews in the draft reservoir	6.8%	7.3%	4.4%	6.2%
Jews in the service in proportion to all in the service	7.5%	7.7%	4.8%	7.1%
Jews in the service from the Jewish draft reservoir	22.7%	38.5%	48.1%	44.8%
Total men in the service from the total draft reservoir	20.4%	38.9%	45.0%	35.5%

It will be evident from the table above that there is a somewhat higher proportion of Jews in the armed services from their own 18 to 44 age-group than for the same age-group in the community as a whole. The explanation for this is not that Jews are super-patriotic; it is due rather to differences in the size of first-generation Jewish families, the general Jewish occupational structure, lower dependency rates, possible later marriage dates for Jewish young men and women, higher literacy, and similar factors. It may be expected that when all the facts are in, for the entire United States, the proportion of Jews represented in the American armed services will be slightly higher than the proportion of Jews in the country as a whole.

Interpretation

It will be evident from the material thus far presented that we have gathered comparatively few straws to show the direction in which the wind is blowing. The evidence thus far seems to bear out the original contention of high government and military officials who assumed that the Selective Service Act would operate in such fashion as to draw equitably and proportionately from all groups throughout the country, irrespective of geographic location, and without regard to race, creed or national origin.

Dr. Jacob I. Hartstein Conducts Survey Of Portland Hebrew School

During the past week, the survey, suggested by the Educational Commission of the Council for Orthodox Jewish Schools, which visited

DR. JACOB I. HARTSTEIN

Portland in November, 1944, was conducted by Dr. Jacob I. Hartstein. Dr. Hartstein is superbly qualified to conduct such a survey. Recently he conducted a survey for the State of New York on the question of "Regulatory Control of Higher Education of the State of New York." Dr. Hartstein received his B. A. Degree at the Yeshiva College, his Master's Degree at Columbia University and Ph. D. at New York University. At present, he is head of the Department of Education and Psychology at Long Island University and Professor of Education at Yeshiva College.

Dr. Hartstein will determine, on an accurate scientific basis, the number of children of school age in the entire community and general population trends. He will also outline principles and methods to reorganize the administration curriculum and extra-curricular activities of the Hebrew School. While in the community, Dr. Hartstein and Rabbi Greenbaum conferred with the Superintendent of Schools and the City Planning Board in order to obtain the necessary information for the Survey. Dr. Hartstein will file a report of his findings and recommendations in the near future. He will also continue to assist our community in the selection of personnel by interviewing candidates and making recommendations.

Beverly Ross Elected President Of Kadimahs

At the meeting of the Kadimah Young Judeans, Beverly Ross was elected president. Other officers elected were Faye Levinsky, vice-president; Donald Rosenberg, secretary; and Jan Oloff, treasurer. Congratulations to the newly elected officers. Plans are still being made for the "Hop." We had a swell attendance. Let's keep it up.

Council Of Jewish Women Prepares To "Tell All" About Social Service Program

Come one! Come all! Find what is going on behind the scenes in social service. Would you really like to know about the activities you are helping to support? Would you like to hear case histories and know how our able social service group is actually going about its job in these times? Mrs. Lester Willis, general chairman, and her committee chairmen, Mrs. Norman Godfrey, Mrs. Aaron Blumenthal, Mrs. Sidney Wernick, Mrs. Gerald Schlosberg, Mrs. Alfred Herman, Mrs. Maurice Bennett and Mrs. Geller are prepared to "tell all" at the meeting of the Portland Section, Council of Jewish Women, Tuesday afternoon, February 6, at 2:15 P. M., at the Center. In addition, Miss Janice Bowen of the Children's Service Bureau will tell us about "Our Children Have Possibilities." Then "a cup of tea, and goodies to eat" will be served. Mrs. Edward Sacknoff, hospita chairman, and her committee.

A reminder—the Current Events Group is meeting Saturday afternoon, February 3, at the home of Mrs. Samuel Cohen, 89 Vesper Street, with Mrs. Robert Morrison as guest speaker. We'll see you there.

B'nai B'rith Changes Meeting Night

Cooperating with the Portland Zionist District, B'nai B'rith is changing its regular meeting night to February 14, so that their members may attend the address of Hayim Greenberg.

Herzl Club Plans Dance Saturday Evening

The Herzl Young Judeans held their meeting on Sunday, January 23, 1945. The raffles were collected and the money amounted to $28.00. It was decided that the dance would be held February 3, 1945. The dance will be held in the Lincoln Theatre. The committee chairman for the dance is Muriel Tabachnick and her committee includes Elaine Ginsburg, Sara Lee Levinsky, Thelma Bernstein, Marilyn Modes and Norman Reef.

Marilyn Modes, Cynthia Kaatz and Richard Gordon read a Purim story. It was also decided to publish a paper once every other week.

"Bulletin" To Be Mailed Only To Center Members

Beginning with next week's issue of the "Bulletin," all non-members names will be removed from our mailing list. We have received many requests from non-members and in the past many have been receiving the "Bulletin," since some one in their families may have been members of the Center at one time. However, in order to comply with Postal Regulations, we will be unable to continue this practice in the future, since our "Bulletin" is published primarily for Center members.

Portland Council For Adult Jewish Education will announce its Speakers in Next Week's Bulletin.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

by EDDIE 'אברהם' טשיק, SHAPIRO

There has been a little comment around town regarding last week's column. Folks have been saying that there was only one letter and why there wasn't more writing from the boys. Now here is my comment on this sichyashun: Firstly, a column was saved—Good old Maury Cox came to my rescue. (He's done it before and not because he wanted to.) And secondly, to harp on the same old subject of mail. That should answer some of the beefs around town. (If this does not satisfy anybody, write c/o Avromchick and we will do all in our power to see that the top of this column is headed by somebody else. If you wanna call this a threat, go ahead.) What I am really beefing about is that Uncle Sam went and took the only real prospect that we had for this column. On last Wednesday Carl "High Stuff" Cooper answered the call to arms. (Ed. Note: Are you comparing yourself with the Kid? Why, he knows more about writing than you ever hope to know.) Carl got a real break for the present anyway—he is at the Massachusetts Agricultural College studying with Weaker Sex. (Wanna swap, Kid?) Well, Good Luck to you, and God Speed.

LETTERS AND ALL: Credit goes to S/Sgt. Earl J. Rackoff for this: "Dear Banjo @ @." (Cute, eh?) . . . Abe Kuvent from England writes, "I've been getting quite a few 'Bulletins' lately and really enjoy them immensely. The fact is I just finished reading one I got today and decided I couldn't put off dropping you a line any longer. You've been doing a grand job on your column (gee, what a flatterer) and I realize how much of a job it must be. I have my troubles writing a letter with nothing to write about so I can understand your position." (See, now you guys should realize what I am up against. Abie does.) He goes on saying, "I have been on the same job here at this depot for the past fourteen months, so everything is strictly routine. Have seen Abe Benjamin several times. I haven't handled a basketball for the past two years and can hardly remember what one looks like. (Abe, you know, used to be the little champ around here.) Tell Don Herman to brush up on his ping-pong because he is going to get some competition when I get back." (Your letter was certainly appreciated, Abe, only write a little oftener.)

If Lt. Cols. can write to us I can't for the life of me see why you Buck Privates, Corporals, Sergeants, Lieutenants, Captains, Majors and all you Navy personnel don't drop us a line. Lt. Col. Bernard Waterman has already sent us a real interesting letter and we have just received a letter from Lt. Col. Lewis H. Weinstein. He writes, "Thanks for sending me issues of your 'Bulletin.' It's good to read of the achievements of people I knew many years ago and of their children. If you should want to continue sending me the 'Bulletin,' I have a new address, as noted above. Had a pleasant visit here in Paris from Lt. Maurice Comeras, as well as receive letters from Major Sam Karlin here on the continent, Oscar Cox in Washington and Moe Huberman in San Francisco." (Lew, your new address has already been forwarded to the circulation department and we certainly are glad to send you the "Bulletin" wherever you may be. Incidentally, Lew, my good wife sends her regards. She was formerly Sadye Bernstein. Do you remember her?)

Louie Lane writes, "I am now on an island in the South Pacific where the (CENSORED) Marines made history. The island is rather a pretty one with coconut palm trees all about. Coconuts are plentiful and ours for the taking. The weather here is sure hot, but the ocean close by is refreshing. This is the first salt water I have actually felt that was warm and one does not hesitate before going in for a dip. This quite sums up life here on the island. I am still in the infantry, being classified as a rifle N. C. O. upon graduation from infantry school. I am in the fighting Fourth Marines, Sixth Division."

AROUND THE TOWN: Jeekers, Creekers, did I attend a home-coming party last Sunday. The occasion was for Maxwell Shible, who has just returned from the South Pacific after two and one-half years. You can imagine the feelings of everyone, and especially the immediate family. Maxwell had a 21-day furlough

Bon voyage, Carl; we certainly miss you, especially on Wednesday nights. All the luck in the world and thanks for your efforts and time you have spent in our behalf; we certainly appreciate it.

Good He-

Yes, I am giving you girls of C. Y. good he-. You have been kicking because of the man shortage. Well, we are giving you a way to beat it; well, for one night anyway. Here we have planned for you a real gala affair and giving you the right of way to invite instead of waiting to be invited. Well, here it is with a little over two weeks until the dance (Wednesday, February 21), and as yet we have heard of only 14 of you of the fairer sex that have invited those of the muscle bound brigade. Don't you want to see one of your friends crowned queen and another king? Wouldn't you like to see and enjoy the many surprises that the dance committee has planned for you? Come on, girls, get on the ball and invite! !

Tickets $2.40 per couple may be obtained from any of the following: Bobby or Bunny Cohan, Esther Finks, Selma Cohen, Abe Fineberg, Cooky Cook, Stanley Goldberg and Marjorie Weinman.

Paper Stuff

Saturday, the second edition of the C. Y. "Journal" will come out. It is full of newsy items and of course dirt. See you there.

Federation

Does that strike a familiar note? We are going to start another drive to collect last year's donations. Come on, amigos, and help a worthy cause. As a whole we do very little to make our presence really substantially felt in the adult world. Here is a real opportunity, don't let it pass unheeded.

G. I. GIBLETS

Blank! Blank! Can't think! ! That's how our train of thoughts seem to run tonight! !

The Patrons and Patronesses were out in full force last Sunday. Gussie Cutler is doing a good job on the assembly line!

Our formal, February 11, should be a double success, seeing that we skipped January. Annabelle hasn't informed us yet, but we imagine it will be a Valentine Formal! !

That cup of coffee is welcomed many a night by the servicemen as they seek shelter from the blasts of winter. (We even serve tea on special request!)

Altruism in its truest form was displayed by Chief Spence last Sunday! ! He readily gave his free phone call to one of the boys in the band. The boy's face sure lighted up.

Eleanor Fournier's troupe of dancers added zest to our dance. The Navy Band was in the groove per usqal! !

Our continual call—more current magazines for the Lounge! ! Give the boys a break! ! Also pocket-sized editions of books would be more than welcome.

The lights are going out, so that leaves us in the dark—see you next week.

and he is to report to Devens, which I gather is a replacement center. (Boyoboy, is there going to be a party when you are all home to stay for good!) . . . I just got a call from one of my snoops around town telling me that Banjoeyes, representing the Community Center, issues a challenge in volleyball to the Cards Bowling League. The Cards (the dopes) went ahead and accepted the challenge. The truth is they don't know a thing about bowling, so how the heck can they go out and play volleyball. That should be something to see. We Cards have quite a few stars though—Abe "Trick Knee" Zimmerman, George "Handball-What's-That-Got-To-Do-With-Volleyball" Bress, Dave "What Co-ordination" Novick, Mac "Volleyball Player, Mm Mm," Greenberg and the Three Blind Mice (Abe Simonds, Haskell Slotsky and Yours Truly). The time and place is 10:30 Sunday morning at the Community Center. Bring iodine, mercurochrome, peroxide and plenty of bandages. We know the Center team is going to need them. Signed: Ed "Sloan's Liniment" Shapiro.

THE DEAN'S LIST

I. Dean Silverman

Action on the basketball front was at a standstill while the boys took time out to flunk a few courses—and even pass one or two.

There was one game, however, in the Fraternity League that saw the female fans' favorite, Phi Delta Mu, pull themselves up into a first place tie with Alpha Tau. The score was 28-23, and the winners did it the hard way, coming from behind in the last quarter to grab the verdict. With Sonny Reuben leading the way with six points the Mu Sigs took a seven-point lead to close the first quarter at 8-1. In the second period the order was reversed, and it was the losers who were held to a single point. The Phi Deltas meanwhile picked up seven to close the gap at half-time, although still behind, to 9-8. Scoring was still at a premium in the third period, but the Mu Sigs found the range often enough to stretch their lead to 15-11 at the close of the third period. With the start of the last quarter it was a different Phi Delt team that took the floor. Before the losers knew what had happened the Phi Deltas rolled up nine points to go in to the lead for the first time in the game, 20-15. From that point the two teams traded baskets to the end of the game.

Fink, Cook, and Joe Lerman divided the bulk of the winner's scoring, while Reuben scored almost half his team's points. The Mu Sigs very obviously missed the services of Mersky, who was out of town.

This Sunday the Phi Deltas and Alpha Tau wind up the schedule with the winner taking over first place. Although the Alpha Taus won the first one when they came from behind in the last period, this game looks like a toss-up and should draw a full house.

The boys with the bulge having been so long neglected, the Messrs. Alan Larkin and Chuck Buxton (nee Boxstein) have asked us to announce a doubles handball tournament. This is open only to Senior male members. Teams will be made up as evenly as possible by Al Hamm. Just pass in your name to the office or to us.

This Tuesday night the A's play their first game away from home when they travel to Cape Elizabeth. This is a return game, the A's having won the first one.
