Godfrey Camp Fund Increases

The Norman I. Godfrey Day Camp Fund continues to grow. Before the Bulletin printed the notice that the scheduled dinner had been cancelled, a warmly worded telegram and a check for $100 were received by Fund Chairman Harold P. Nelson from Frances and Louis Altman of Stamford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Altman are the brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Ethel Godfrey, widow of Norman.

Their telegram said:

"We are deeply touched by your community's tribute to Norman. You could not have chosen a more fitting memorial than associating his life with children and their needs. We can't be with you in person but our hearts are filled with affection for all of you who knew, understood and loved Norman so well.

"May we join with you in this understanding. Check for $100 follows."

Miss Ruth F. Fennessey, executive secretary of the Portland Council of Social Agencies, sent a check for $15 for the Day Camp Fund.

Her letter said:

"This money was given through the Group Work Division of the Council of Social Agencies and through Social Workers' Club at the time of Norman Godfrey's death, a loss that was felt deeply by both

Rabbis Declare Passover Is Real Holiday of Freedom

By

RABBI EPHRAIM BENNETT

* * *

"In every generation one ought to regard himself as though he had personally come out of Egypt (Hagaddah)."

* * *

Freedom, by its very nature, is something which cannot be bestowed upon future generations. Each generation, in turn, must define and endeavor to preserve its concept of freedom. By means of the Seder service, the Jew dramatizes this fact, for the Seder emphasizes the eternal struggle which rages between the forces of tyranny and liberty for the possession of the souls of men and nations, and within man himself. The Seder is a re-dedication to the ideal of freedom and an expression of our determination that "next year we shall continue to be free."

Certainly, for us who are living in an age which finds the world divided into two mighty and hostile segments, each girding its loins and mustering its strength for a final clash to determine whether freedom

By

RABBI MORRIS BEKRITSKY

The holiday of Passover which we celebrate this week is one which is deeply ingrained, not alone in the ideals of Jewish life but in the ideals of all democracies, for Passover is the holiday of freedom.

There is a difference between the ideal of freedom as the Torah understood it and the ideal of freedom as it is popularly conceived. The world at large has understood freedom as a negative concept. It interpreted freedom as being only the absence of servitude. Take away the master and the slaves are automatically free.

The Jew has understood freedom as being more than an abolition of servitude. Freedom is something positive. It is a concept and a state of mind. Freedom is the raising of the individual from an inferior condition in life to a superior position. Freedom was coupled with an ideal of the dedication to holy values.

When Moses came to the Children of Israel to preach his message of freedom he not only told them in G-D's name that "I shall free you from the labor of the Egyptians" or slavery shall rule the world, the Passover Festival with its emphasis on liberty comes as a significant challenge and a call to re-dedication. By recalling the agony and terror of our enslavement in Egypt it heightens our appreciation of the gifts and blessings of freedom and demands of us that we be at all times prepared to protect them.

It is my hope that this Passover may witness the beginning of a greater measure of liberty and happiness for the oppressed of our world, wherever they may be found.

Mrs. Bennett joins me in extending our best wishes to the members of the Jewish community for a very Happy Passover.

but also that "I shall take you unto me for a people and I shall be your G-D." Freedom meant an entire change in values. It meant looking at life from a different perspective.

The American Civil War which saw the manumission of the negro slaves, did not liberate them. In essence they still remained as slavish as they were before Emancipation Proclamation. A fiat decree cannot bring freedom. Freedom, to be real, must be coupled with values which are positive and real and elevating in life. The Children of Israel, taken from Egyptian slavery, were immediately led to Mount Sinai and dedicated to new and higher values. It was then that their liberation was complete and perfect.

There are people in the world today, who, while not serving any human masters, are yet psychologically slaves. They are slaves for they have no ideals and no values and no purposes by which to guide them-

Council To Hear Dr. Louise Ames

Everyone is looking forward to hearing Dr. Louise Bates Ames speak at the Council meeting Tuesday, April 4, at 2:15 p.m. at the Center.

Mrs. Ames was graduated from Deering High School in 1925 and the University of Maine in 1930. She received her Ph.D. from Yale in 1936 and since then has been on the staff of the Yale Medical School. She has been personal research assistant to Dr. Carroll Gesell since 1933.

She is now Curator of Yale films on child development and assistant professor at Yale Medical School. Her publications include a dozen films and forty published books and articles. Some of the books in which she collaborated with Dr. Gesell are "The first 5 years of life," "Infant and Child are the culture of today," and "The Child from 5 to ten."

Mrs. Ames is working on the study of adolescence and the use of the Rorschach (ink blot) test.

Workshop Offers Fun For Members

For an evening full of laughs and entertainment, be sure to set April 12 aside on your calendar. That's the evening that the Center Workshop will hold its annual election meeting.

All Workshop members, active and just watchers, are welcome to vote for new members of the board of directors.

For entertainment, Sumner Goffin is directing a one-act play, a comedy of Jewish life. An all-star cast guarantees to make your evening an hilarious one.

Milton Pink is acting as stage manager for the play and Mimi Novick is production secretary. As an added treat, motion pictures taken during dress rehearsal of Dark Tower and Claudia, recent Workshop productions, will be shown.

You're welcome, free of charge.

Center Will Teach Art Of Fistcuffs

We have not as yet received enough names to warrant a new class in boxing for youngsters. Any parents desirous of enrolling their youngster should call the Center Office at once. The time and date for the classes have not as yet been made definite.

The two instructors, Carl Bernstein and Abe Nathanson await your response.

They remain slaves to the whims and the winds which blow through life. Freedom is an elevation of character and personality. He who has achieved it knows true freedom.

these groups in which he participated so actively, and so constructively.

"The money has been held until such time as the Center should be ready to do something in Norman's memory and I am sure the donors would be most happy in your decision to use the funds for a day camp.

"We have also in the office a plaque which says quite simply what we felt about Norman—"In Memory of Norman I. Godfrey, Friend and Community Leader." We will be very glad to turn this over to you at any appropriate time for whatever use you may care to make of it. It might be suitable for the camp lodge."

Additional contributors include:

- Thomas Bernstein, Leonard Carp, Richard Carvel, Dr. Samuel Cope, Simon Glaser, Thomas Livingston, Jacob Rubinsky, Edward Schreiber, Lillian Siltan ($25 donation), Max Wiesenthal, Maurice Levine, Jack Branz, Russell Mack, Joe Mackin, Arthur Nelson, Elowitch Brothers, Community Foods—Jos. BEN "Deems Taylor" ZOLOV

Everybody get set for the spring concert of the Center Orchestra, which will take place on Sunday evening, April 23. A fine program in keeping with this joyous season has been arranged. Two gifted chorus groups, Hadassah and the Quartet, will be featured that evening. More about them later.

We're still talking about the wonderful buffet supper that was served to the orchestra last week. Ida Cooper, assisted by lovely Marion Taylor, kept our musical minds pre-occupied with delicious choice foods. That potato salad should be a "must" in everybody's home. The horn section became so enthusiastic after the repast that they played all their notes one octave higher during rehearsal. Dr. S. Polisner was so invigorated, that he started working on his "Nursery Rhyme Symphony." The string section music of "Little Bo-Peep—Come Blow Your Horn" was dashed off in 15 minutes. Yours truly awoke one hour after the meal writing the final movement to the "Potato Salad Symphony—Without Onions." Music sure hath its charms!

I was happy to greet Maurice Rubinoff again in the second violin section. It's a great comfort to have him with us. Having teamed up for the last rehearsal, I want you to know that he is one of the few great living artists, who, while reading the notes of second violin, has the uncanny ability of playing the music of the first violin by ear.

KOSHER for PASSOVER

Approved by Rabbi Hyman A. Rabinowitz
Director
Organized Rabbinical Bureau

Beating last year's figure by five, 5 contestants took part in the Center's Second Annual Foul Shooting Contest in five classes, ranging in age from six to Hy Shepard. Normie Bress and Jackie Rosen were the only two Champions to defend their crowns successfully. The former retained the Harlow Trophy, the latter the Center Men's Club Trophy.

Bress was given a terrific battle in the 6 to 9 year group, his 16 of 25 shots just nosing out Jeff Weinstein, Barry and Stuart Potter who wound up in a three-way tie for second with 15 each.

Frank Fleischer won the Harold Potter Trophy in the 10 to 11 year group in another close one. Fleischer's 15 was just enough to best Larry Lewis who came in second with 14.

The 12 to 14 year group saw the third successive one point margin as Mike Ross edged Don Cutler for the Mu Sigma Trophy, 18 to 17. Joe Palais was another point behind in third place.

Coming up with the day's top total for the second successive year was Jackie Rosen, winner in the High School class. Jackie is only a Sophomore, with chances of making a clean sweep for four years. Jerry Sutton's 19 was good enough for runner-up honors. Marty Burke, who hasn't played a game of basketball in four years, tied with Bernie Perlman for third place with 17.

Bunky Fink replaced Hank Gilbert as Champion in the Open division as he made 20 to the ex-champ's 18. Doc Briggs was the Trophy donor in this class.

The Center Juniors fell by the wayside in the Semi-Finals of the Portland Boys Club Class C Tournament, dropping a heart-breaker in the last minute to the Lee Midget Pilots, 28-22. The B's lost their first round game in Class B by an almost identical score, 30-22, to the Hungry Aces.

Drogin Is Chairman Of B'nai B'rith Fete

Louis Drogin, Vice President of Cumberland Lodge, B'nai B'rith, will be chairman of the evening's program when Cumberland Lodge and Chapter, B'nai B'rith, hold their annual installation banquet and dance at the Community Center on Sunday, April 16, at 6:30 p.m.

Rabbi Morris Bekritsky will pronounce the Invocation and Rabbi Ephraim Bennett will deliver the Benediction on the occasion.

Through regrettable inadvertence, the names of Mrs. Harry Brickman and Mrs. Henry Levine were omitted from the list of members working on the Ticket Committee.

Plans are shaping up to make this installation one of the best in recent years. Members are urged to make their reservations well in advance so that proper arrangements may be made with the caterers.

Non-members who wish to attend are cordially invited. The price is $2.50 per person for an enjoyable evening of good food, inspiring installation ceremonies and pleasant dancing to the music of Sid Lerman and his orchestra.

Co-chairmen of Arrangements are Mrs. Harry K. Goldberg and Milton Burke.

Shur Helps Plan JWB Convention

Barnett I. Shur, of Portland, has been named to the national committee planning the 1950 biennial convention of the National Jewish Welfare Board (JWB), according to word received from Charles W. Morris, Louisville, Ky., committee chairman.

"Broadened Horizons for the American Jewish Community" is the over-all theme of JWB's first national convention since 1948, which will meet at the Hotel Netherland Plaza, Cincinnati, from Saturday evening, May 6, to Monday, May 8.

On April 5 we will vote for the officers for Youth Week. Candidates for President include Julienne Lyons (Julie is a singer who can hit a high note. She'll make a good president but she needs your vote), and Phil Nectow (for a vote you won't regret; vote for Phil; he's a sure bet).

Other candidates include: Vice President: (six will be elected), Seldon Kaatz, David Molko, Judy Venner, Gordon Weinstein, David Lewis, Harvey Jacobs, Paul Royte, Karl Kaplan, Francis Silver, Elliot Weiner, Jo Silverman, and Nancy Mack.

Secretary: Buddy Finberg, Helene Goldkrand and Elliot Palais.

Treasurer: Jerry Sandler, Hal and Mal Loew.

Let's come down everybody, and vote for our favorites!

If you are interested in taking part backstage, Workshop will find a place for you. Just contact Earl Aronson at his home and don't be shy about speaking up. It is physically impossible for Workshop to call every member and ask him if he'd like to take an active part in production. So here's your chance. New Class Listed
For Hebrew School

The Portland Hebrew School wishes to announce that a new class for sub-primary children, age five, is being instituted for the 1950-1951 season. The present kindergarten class for children aged four will be continued.

The time for each class has been arranged so that children may attend both the Public Schools and the Hebrew School without conflict. The schedules planned are as follows:

Kindergarten
(Age: 4 Years)

Opening date: Same as Public Schools

MONDAY THRU THURSDAY

Time: 9:30 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. Each child will be called for at his home between 9 A.M. and 9:30 A.M. and returned between 11:30 A.M. and 12 Noon

Food: Milk and crackers served during the session.

Price: $2.25 per week includes: tuition, food and transportation by the Portland Hebrew School bus.

* * *

Sub-Primary
(Age: 5 Years)

Opening date: Same as Public Schools

MONDAY THRU THURSDAY

Time: 2 P.M. to 4 P.M. Each child will be called for at his home between 1:30 P.M. and 2 P.M. and returned between 4 P.M. and 4:30 P.M.

Food: Milk and crackers served during the session

Price: $2.25 per week includes tuition, food and transportation by the Portland Hebrew School bus

The school has excellent equipment and facilities for accommodating children of these ages. In addition to fine indoor equipment, there is a large sunny yard, safely fenced in, where much time is spent out of doors, weather permitting. The children are also taken on occasional trips, by the Hebrew School bus, to parks and other places of interest to them.

Registrations are now being accepted. You may register your child by calling the Portland Hebrew School, 3-0693.

Gefilte Snooze

We've all been buzzing with extra duties this week—the Erev Pesach preparations are very welcome. 'Tis a sure sign that spring is here—the ladies are displaying their Passover bonnets, and father has shed his “bagel coat.” The “bagel coat” is the business man's storm coat, because he wears his Burberry every day, and his hurricane coat when he goes to Middle St. on Sunday to buy the bagel.

Powdered my nose, in the 3rd Floor Ladies' Powder Room, and what do you suppose greeted me? . . . Beautiful marbelized-effect walls such as only an artist can do, and they tell me our own Roland Garland is responsible for it.

Stopped to chat with Mr. George A. Fellios just before the performance at the Center by the members of the Greek Orthodox Church and he was so happy to have been received so graciously. We're happy to be able to share our facilities with such fine people. Their program was in observance of their Independence Day, and we can appreciate that, for we, too, in our Festival of Passover celebrate our Independence Day. It wasn't like a signed declaration, but the flight of Moses and his people out of Egypt is a sure sign of independence.

Miss Muriel Kodis is now Mrs. Brewster Branz. That charming young pair middle-aisled last Sunday . . . a new young potential Center Women's Clubber.

Mr. and Mrs. David Stiman, the former Marcia Ginsburg, are among our newly marrieds . . . congrats, and welcome to our midst.

Arlene Cohen and Sumner Punsky said their “Yes” to each other quite recently. . . . Everybody's doin' it, doin' it.

We're contemplating a Dagwood Matzoh Sandwich, and any suggestions as to the contents will be accepted. We'll start off with a layer of Borsht . . . carry on from there.

Troop 104

This week the older girls got their second class badges. Mrs. Modes brought a bassinette and Barbara Zade brought paint to paint it. It will be given to a needy family. We are outfitting it completely and will give a tray of bathing equipment for a baby. We also worked on our photography badge.
