Our synagogue is called Temple Beth El. The Hebrew, Beit El, means house of God. I'm not sure what our founders were thinking when they picked that name, but I imagine that they were envisioning that everything that happened our building from services to Torah study, from religious education to community gatherings, would help to manifest God's presence in our world. We might say that we hope every action we do in our sacred space helps to bring a little more goodness into the world, thus bringing God's presence nearer to us as we draw nearer to one another.

TEMPLE BETH EL
Woodlawn Avenue

In Hebrew there are actually three words for synagogue. A synagogue is called a beit midrash, a house of study. From ancient times our ancestors have gathered in these buildings to study. They were often the only place in town where copies of the Torah and Talmud could be studied. Today we carry on that tradition of learning with our Torah study, our Soup and Study, and, of course, our Hebrew School. As the 'people of the book,' we understand the importance of engaging with our ancient texts.

A synagogue is also called a beit t'filliah, a house of prayer. I imagine that today many of us think of a synagogue as primarily this—a place where we gather to welcome in Shabbat and to celebrate as our young people become b'nai mitzvah. Prayer is a cornerstone of who we are and what we do as Jews, and we all know the importance of being able to say kaddish as we remember a loved one and finding a place to pray at the end of a difficult week.

A synagogue is also called a beit k'neset, a house of assembly. [In fact, synagogue come from the Greek word meaning assembly.] We gather in our building for community events—wine tastings, baby namings, teen programs, etc.. We host interfaith meetings, community lectures, and a Learning English Through Cooking class. Whatever we do in our building—study, pray or assemble—we create community. Our congregation is only as strong as our connections to one another and those connections are built in our sacred space.

As you will read in detail on pages 4 and 5, it is time to renovate our building. This renovation will allow our space to reflect the desire our community has to learn, pray, and gather as one. The bimah and building will be accessible, serving the needs of all our members and reflecting our value that all people are part of our community. It will allow for a more intimate prayer space, with more room for our larger services. We will have a dedicated function space. Our prayer space will be beautified with the addition of a stained-glass window. I am thrilled that artist Nancy Katz and Mark Leibowitz will be creating a window we can enjoy for generations to come (see page 14). This is an exciting new project that will enable us to have a space which is truly a beit midrash, a beit t'filliah, a beit kneset, and a Beit El. I look forward to seeing many of you at our community meeting on February 10th at 11am where we will discuss our plans in detail. May the work that we do in the coming months strengthen our community and connections for years to come.

Your Rabbi in Action!

The last two months of 2018 were a whirlwind! November began with a powerful Shabbat service that brought more than 200 people to the temple to support our community after the Pittsburgh tragedy. Rabbi Asch attended three national conferences, spoke at several community events, presided over TBE's hard-fought Mensch Madness tournament, led havdallah services, and made time for a family vacation in Puerto Rico (which included a visit to San Juan's Reform synagogue).

It's Time: A Renewed Synagogue for Central Maine's Jewish Community

Community Forum on the Building Project
11:00 - 12:30pm on Sunday, February 10th

By Jerry Bley

The Temple Beth El building was constructed in 1954. Although minor repairs and cosmetic changes, such as new carpets and painting, have been completed over the decades, no major improvements or renovations have been undertaken.

The time has come to address significant problems and needs:

- substantial deferred maintenance, including replacement of the roof, siding, and furnace;
- lack of accessibility to the bimah, bathrooms and entrance for people with mobility impairments;
- lack of insulation and inefficient heating and cooling systems in both the Temple and Schuman Center;
- modifications to the building layout to improve functionality and security including a redesigned entrance area, function space independent of the sanctuary, a modestly updated kitchen, additional exterior lighting; and
- attractive landscaping throughout the TBE "campus" including a patio behind the Temple.

In 2016, a Design Committee, with the pro bono services of architect Peter Bethanis began the process of developing a plan to address these needs. In its early deliberations, the Design Committee considered the possibility of reorienting the synagogue to face east as is Jewish tradition. The Committee discovered that this reorientation not only created a more intimate setting for services, it also facilitated bimah access and freed up the function space so that it would no longer be needed for sanctuary seating. Additional design changes include installation of a stained glass window in the sanctuary and reconfiguration and enlargement of the entrance area (exterior and interior).

What's Happening at TBE

While the renovation will provide for many new features, a concerted effort has been made to maintain familiar features including:

- The ark and cabinetry on the bimah will be preserved and moved to the eastern wall of the sanctuary;
- The interior of the sanctuary with its beams, paneling, and lighting; and
- The preservation and relocation of existing exterior doors.

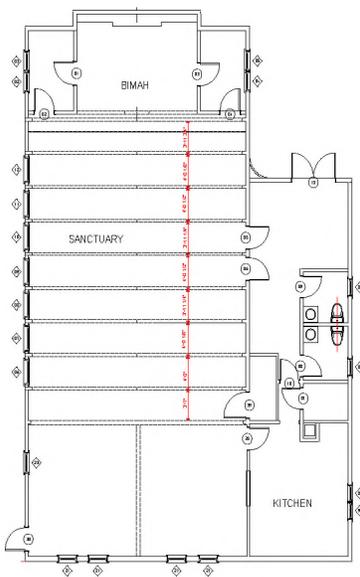

If fundraising efforts prove successful, we plan to initiate construction in June 2019 and complete the renovation (other than landscaping) prior to the High Holidays in 2019.

The total cost estimate for the project is $312,000:

- $262,000 for renovations to the synagogue building
- $20,000 for a new heating and cooling system at the Shuman Center
- $30,000 for landscaping (including improvements to the parking area, walkways, and the addition of a patio).

A Building Fundraising Committee, headed up by Fran Rudoff, has begun approaching individuals for lead gifts with plans to solicit the full membership in February. Special naming opportunities are available. Gifts in memory of loved ones or in honor of special people are welcome and encouraged. Anyone interested in learning more about the naming opportunities and supporting this important project is encouraged to contact Fran to arrange a meeting at frudoff@gmail.com.

To learn more about the Temple's building plans, TBE members and friends are invited to attend a community forum scheduled for Sunday, February 10 at 11:00 AM.

How Judaism Became an American Religion

by Steven R. Weisman

The Chosen Wars is the important story of how Judaism enhanced America and how America inspired Judaism.

"American Judaism underwent a radical shift in the 19th century, adapting its rituals and its theology alike for an open, modern society. Weisman offers a thorough and fascinating history of these decades, which gave birth to the liberal branches of Judaism and allowed Jews to feel at home and thrive in America."

Project Zug Online Partnership Learning presents

A FOOD TOUR OF THE TALMUD

SELF-PACED ONLINE COURSE
WITH A STUDY PARTNER

Starts February 3, 2019 with a launch party at
Beth Israel Congregation - Bath

Co-sponsored by
The Center for Small Town Jewish Life and the Jewish Community Alliance

Food is a powerful force at the center of ritual, community, and ethics. This class will explore all these aspects of food by studying passages on food found across the Talmud. Jumping into the lively debate of Talmud will pave the way for rich discussion to affirm, challenge, and transform our own approaches to food. This online course is facilitated by Rabbi Aviva Richman of The Hadar Institute, New York.

How this course works:

Sign up with Project Zug to gain access to the full course materials when the course launches on February 3. You'll learn online with a chevruta - a traditional-style study buddy. You can either list your study partner when you register, or write "Match Me" to have us pair you with another Mainer! We'll have a kickoff event at Beth Israel Congregation in Bath on February 3rd from 1:30-3:00 pm, and a siyyum (a capstone event) at this June's Maine Conference for Jewish Life in Waterville.

What do you need?

You'll need a computer with internet connectivity (a camera is very helpful), a chevruta (which we can provide you), and the desire to engage meaningfully with Jewish texts!

No prior experience with text study or chevruta learning?

No problem! The Project Zug experience ensures that this curated material will be explained by renowned teachers. This 10-week course can take the 10 weeks allotted - or you and your partner might take a slower pace. This is an amazing opportunity to build our Maine Jewish community through traditional learning.

We're excited to offer a special scholarship opportunity to the first 20 registrants for this program! Use code First20 in your registration for an amazing 50% discount off of the $36 tuition fee, for first 20 registrants only.
