Bet Ha'am's First Excellent Etrog Raffle

Over the next few weeks, the open-air markets in Israel will be brimming with etrogs (citrons) on sale for Sukkot. Not all etrogs will fetch the same price. Depending on size, shape, surface, and the presence of the pitom (flower stem), an etrog might cost from a minimum of 35 shekels up to hundreds, even thousands. Many synagogues around the world sell etrog and lulav sets as autumn fund raisers. Here at Bet Ha'am, we grow our own organic etrog plants. It has taken nine years for our plants to produce three impressive fruits! They are large and excellent in form. We will keep one for the Bet Ha'am sukkah.

We will raffle off two of these excellent etrogs on Friday, September 17th at 11:00 AM live on Facebook! Each will come with a lulav to complete the ritual sukkah symbols. Unable to join us on Facebook? No worries! Winners will be contacted directly.

P

Two other prizes are offered:

- a children's book and plush etrog and lulav set
- festive, Israeli, glass hostess set perfect for entertaining

With four drawings each ticket has four chances to win!

When you enter to win Bet Ha'am wins too.

1 ticket $18.00

3 tickets $50.00

7 tickets $100

Rabbi's forearm length (11 tickets) $150
