

The Bet Ha'am Weekly Email

Words of Torah

Both Abraham and his nephew Lot are recipients of visitors in this week's Torah portion, Vayera. Both welcome the strangers into their homes, but Abraham is regarded as the paradigm of hospitality and not Lot. Why is that so? The text tells us that two angels came to Lot's house seeking refuge from his inhospitable neighbors in the city of Sodom. He lets them in. But in Abraham's case, the text tells us that it was three men who came to Abraham and Sarah's tent. Though we know them to have been angels, Abraham only knew them to be ordinary men, not distinguished guests. Abraham is a better example of hospitality because the rabbis believe that had Lot's visitors presented themselves as mere men, he would likely not have let them in. Also, Lot remains at home and the visitors knock upon his door, but when Abraham sees the three men off in the distance, he gets up and runs to greet them, eagerly extending a welcome to these strangers. It can be challenging to act like Abraham, rushing to greet strangers, but the reward is great. In fact, the rabbis tell us that even though Abraham extended his charity to these three men, he received even more from them than they had received from him.

WHAT TO EXPECT WHEN YOU COME BACK TO WORSHIP

Did you know that our Friday Evening and Saturday Morning Shabbat Worship Services are being held in-person? When you're ready to come back to the sanctuary, here's what you can expect:

- Effective September 1st, anyone who wishes to attend services in-person must be fully vaccinated and be willing to attest to vaccination status.
- Everyone must wear a mask at all times while attending indoor services. Masks are required before entering the building.
- Masks are required at outdoor worship services, as we will be singing.
- Disposable masks and hand sanitizer are available at our main entrance. Hand sanitizer can also be found at the entrance to the sanctuary.

- Everyone must complete the sign-in form at each visit.
- We're practicing social distancing in the sanctuary. Seats are spaced 3 feet apart; please do not move seats together unless you are members of the same household.
- Eating is not allowed inside the building at this time. We hope to return to Onegs and Kiddush lunches soon.
- Our Family Shabbat Worship and Tot Shabbat Services will be held via Zoom only until further notice.
- Our Shabbat Morning Worship Services sometimes include celebrations of our students becoming bar or bat mitzvah. The entire congregation is welcome and encouraged to join in Shabbat worship when our students are called to the Torah. While we require everyone who wishes to attend in-person to be fully vaccinated, these celebrations may include children who are not yet eligible for vaccination. Unvaccinated children will be seated in a separate area away from the general congregation; however, if you are not comfortable sharing a space with unvaccinated individuals, we encourage you to attend a Shabbat service that does not include a family-centered celebration or join us via Zoom.
- All services will continue to be live-streamed on Zoom. See below details.

Questions can be addressed to Sylvia Most at president@bethaam.org

A Great Day in the Garden

by Catherine Share

The Garden Committee would like to extend a thank you to all the Hebrew School teachers, parent volunteers and new garden volunteers who helped out this past Sunday morning with "A Hebrew School Day in the Garden with Worms and Chickens as Well." The weather was wonderful once the sun came out and lots of tasks were completed including bulb planting, cutting back irises, harvesting the rest of the vegetables from the raised beds and amending the beds for the winter. One teacher made a comment to me that while she can't get her son to help out in the home garden, somehow being in the Bet Ha'am garden with friends and classmates was just terrific fun.
