

Due to public health concerns, the MJFF Board of Directors has decided that the November Festival and upcoming Yiddish Culture Festival will be virtual only. While we would have loved to see you in person, we felt it was more important for everyone to be safe and feel safe.

Thank you to all our supporters who continue to sustain us and make our work possible.

Coming October 1 -3 the Virtual Yiddish Culture Festival

Two of the films MJFF was forced to cancel in 2020 because of the Covid Emergency, were films featuring the rich heritage of Yiddish culture: The Last Klezmer and Black Honey.

We are pleased to be able to present these now as a virtual Yiddish Culture Festival October 1 -3. Both films will be available to view Noon on Friday, October 1 through midnight on Sunday, October 3. There will also be a live streamed discussion program with Yale Strom, who directed The Last Klezmer and is a Klezmer musician himself, as well as a Zoom Klezmer concert with Rabbi Sruli Dresdner and Lisa Mayer. Tickets will go on sale on September 9th at Noon.

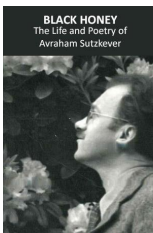

Thank you to our partner, the JCA of Southern Maine

The Last Klezmer - the Life & Times of Leopold Kozlowski

Leopold Kozlowski was one of the few Klezmer musicians who survived the Holocaust and remained in Poland. This charming and moving film follows Mr. Kozlowski on a pilgrimage to his hometown in present day Ukraine.
