Artist's Talk with Jane Banquer "Habitats, Inhabitants"

Join us at the Maine Jewish Museum on Sunday, February 10th, from 2 pm-4 pm as we enjoy an artist's talk with Jane Banquer relative to her exhibition entitled, "Habitats, Inhabitants", which is showing in our Fineberg Family Community Room through March 1st (on March 1st, we will be open from 10 am - 4 pm and again from 5 pm - 8 pm for our First Friday Art Walk).

"In the winter of 2016, I awoke from a dream where I saw two overlapping oval color shapes. From that germ grew drawn objects and colored forms fitting together like puzzle pieces which developed into solarplate and linocut prints during a fellowship at the Haystack Mountain School of Crafts.

Over two years, a body of mostly large work has moved from dream to residency, to my island studio and Portland's Pickwick Independent Press where most were printed. It's a mix of old and new techniques, the familiar with the experimental, false starts, surprises and few precious moments in a predictable comfort zone."

Jane is an alum of the Boston Museum School, Smith College, UNH, Antioch New England, and Haystack Mountain School of Crafts. She has received numerous awards and prizes, including Haystack's open residency in 2016 and honorable mention by the Annual J. Parfitt Memorial Exhibition. She is represented by Casco Bay Artisans, Addison Woolley Gallery; Archipelago Fine Arts; Robert Lincoln Levy Gallery; and Wenniger Graphics. Jane has been published in several periodicals and has exhibited in over 20 solo exhibitions. She has juried memberships in the Collection of Bruce Brown, the League of New Hampshire Craftsmen, and the New Hampshire Art Association.

We look forward to your visit.
