Letter to Sun: Land of Water - Edwige Charlot

Spiegel Gallery

Curator in residence, Nancy Davidson

Edwige Charlot was born in Paris, France of Haitian heritage. She received her Bachelor of Fine Arts in Printmaking from the Maine College of Art. She lives in Providence, RI.

Letters to Sun: Land of Water are new works that explore how, physically and culturally, both Jewish and Black ancestries were carried by water. Charlot uses the concepts of print to add insight to our inter-connectedness within the diasporas.

Her matrix-centered practice aims to recollect and record a heritage, identity, and lineage.

Nancy Ziegler

Letters to Sun: Land of Water is an ode to this empyrean and unspecified place where we came to be. At the center of these works is how darkness came to be from light and where the land rose from water.

Innovative Techniques - Salazar

*Fineberg Family Community Room
Curator in residence, Nancy Davidson*

This exhibition features four bodies of work from Roland Salazar Rose.

"Roots," finds Salazar expressing in paint and text his quest for knowledge and understanding of his family ancestry:

his Norwegian, Scotch/Irish & German roots:

unearthing the hidden past.

"Solar Flares & Salazar," is an art/science collaboration; a 'full-dome' projection at the Emera Astronomy Center, USMO.

The paintings selected are part of the eleven in his solar series, accompanied by the video from the planetarium public shows.

"Land, Sea & Sky: Maine 2012-18" He writes: "I resided in Mexico over three decades bridging the 20th and 21st centuries.

I returned to Maine in 2012 for personal reasons where I established as a goal for my paintings to seek to express Maine's true essence. For I paint 'Maine' as unforgiving, the land, sea and sky as uncompromising, demanding your daily awareness, and testing your ability to live with nature as a constant in your life."

Portraits: Informal portraits of interesting folks from Mexico.

Ebb & Flow

La Vida Judia Contemporanea en Cuba - Linda J. Hirsch

Third Floor Sanctuary - Photography Curator, Nanci Kahn

Linda J. Hirsch, Photojournalist and Psychologist is presenting images inspired by more than 18 years of enabling Jewish-Interfaith communities and individuals throughout Cuba.

She has been deeply inspired by the essence of "cubanidad" : faith; Family; and community.

Hirsch occasionally refers to Anne Frank when interweaving the threads of Jewish European History with those of contemporary Jewish Caribbean life.

Hirsch continues to bring renewal and light into hearts and homes of Jewish-Interfaith Communities throughout Cuba. She has formed many strong Cuba connections, mentored youths in photography and "deep seeing" and has given them skills with which to inspire others throughout the Diaspora and to create a legacy.

We look forward to your visit.
