Storytelling and Midrash

Thursday, August 22, 6:30 p.m. with Rabbi Lily Solochek

Have you ever read a book or watched a movie and imagined further scenes or moments from the story? When our rabbinic ancestors read the Torah they wrote hundreds of additional stories to dive deeper and learn more about ourselves, the world, and God. We call these stories Midrash. Together, we will explore some of these midrashim as a way to understand sacred storytelling, and then craft our own midrashim using Jewish text, creative writing, and acting exercises. We'll conclude with some dramatic readings of our stories.

You are welcome to attend, even if you did not go to the class last week.
