Tu B'Shevat Seder

Tu B'Shevat + Climate Change

Sunday, February 9, 4:00 - 6:00 p.m.

Join us for Tu B'shevat, the New Year for the Trees. Rabbi Solochek will lead us as we eat symbolic foods, talk about the climate crisis, and make our own pickles (bring a jar if you can)! We will also enjoy a meal of the seven species of Israel combined with local foods.

Open to everyone and all ages.

Adult Ed: Torah Stories and Rabbinic Stories

Thursday, February 6 & February 20
6:30 - 8:00 p.m.

Join us for an ongoing class focused on the weekly parsha (Torah portion) alongside the classical midrash (rabbinic stories).

Please join us at the synagogue OR online on Zoom. (Zoom is an easy-to-use online program that lets you fully participate from your computer.)

To join by Zoom, browse to <https://bcm.zoom.us/j/842358860> or call 669-900-6833 (toll) or 877-369-0926 (toll free) and enter meeting ID 842 358 860#

Weather or Not?

It is another Maine winter. As a rule, we are pretty tough, and don't let much stop us. But sometimes the weather is just too bad to risk driving in.

Please call the office if you are in doubt if a service, class, or event will be held. We will update our outgoing message if anything is canceled.

As always, even if the synagogue is open, please use your best judgement about whether to travel or not. Road conditions will vary depending on where you are coming from.
