

According to that great source, Wikipedia, "Shavuot has a double significance. It marks the all-important wheat harvest in the Land of Israel (Exodus 34:22 ); and it commemorates the anniversary of the day God gave the Torah to the entire nation of Israel assembled at Mount Sinai..."

Come and celebrate with us!

Join us in celebration of

Shavuot

Wednesday, May 31, 6p.m.

Beginning in the sanctuary with

A chanting of The Book of Ruth

and a Yizkor service

Followed by a traditional dairy meal

Blintzes, Burekas, and Tabbouleh

And a dinner-table conversation

"Wherever you go, I will go."

What does Ruth mean when she speaks these words to Naomi?

What do they mean to us?

RSVPs for dinner would be greatly appreciated.

Dessert is potluck-please bring something if you are able to. Please email info@adasyoshuron.org
