

Talk on Jewish Immigration: The View from Maine

On Thursday, Oct. 27 at 7 p.m, Rabbi David Freidenreich will speak on Jewish immigration to Maine at the Penobscot School, 28 Gay Street, Rockland. His talk is sponsored by the 2017 Camden Conference Refugees and Global Migration: Humanitys Crisis. Suggested donation, $10. FMI contact the Penobscot School: 207-594-1084.

Millions of Jews left their homes in search of a better future during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Many chose to immigrate to America. Although Maine was not an especially popular destination for Jewish immigrants, the experiences of Jewish new Mainers both before and after their arrival reflect broader dynamics in the history of Jewish immigration. Comparison with other groups of new Mainers also yields valuable insights into the challenges and opportunities that immigrants have encountered in our state. Come learn more about the history of Jews in Maine at Rabbi Freidenreichs talk. All are welcome.

--
Liz Soloway Snider, Administrator
Adas Yoshuron Synagogue
P.O. Box 1250
Rockland, Maine 04841
207.594.4523
info@adasyoshuron.org
www.adasyoshuron.org